This article needs to be cleaned up, and can't live up to the quality standards of Hero Siege Wiki. You can help by editing it, or by bringing immediate problems to the admin board. (No reason) We are proud to present 17 playable classes under siege by the hero at this point in time. If a melee or class range is what you want, we've got it, or if the scientist and spell sling fanatics interest you here. Each class comes with 2 whole different tree skills with a wide range of builds and options to choose from. We recommend you try as many classes as you want and find your own style as you adventure through Tarethiel. Hero Siege also has multiplayer using the same classes that one player uses. You won't be able to use your single character in multiplayer mode. Instead, you'll have to make new characters for the multiplayer game. There are eighteen single players, and eighteen multiplayer character slots are available. Once you've filled out all these slots, no other characters can be created. Instead, to make a new character, the old one must be removed. Single Player slots can't hold multiplayer characters, and multiplayer slots can't keep Single Player characters. Viking Here we have a classic axe swinging, a whirlwind barbarian who charges into hordes of monsters with brute force to overpower them with sheer force. If you like to fight, this is your man. If it can burn, it will burn it. Armed with a knife, staff or Spellbook he will fry monsters from a safe distance. If you want to ignite things out of harm's way, choose it. Marksman is your sign in sight. With the speed and precision of Marksman it will destroy all kinds of enemies, but in the desert life is difficult and it will take some time to master your style. If you like the classic range experience this is your guy. Nomad As a Viking is our sand addicted to a melee class warrior who works at close range with wind attacks as well as a wide area of sandstorms. Easy to learn and difficult to master fits perfectly with its description. His speed and versatility match only his own sandals. Redneck If you think Jason was bad, you've never met this chainsaw swinging, binge-drinking maniac. He likes to dive into huge hordes of monsters and destroy their rooms with his chainsaw, all sorts of friends and gasoline. Pirate Is a very unique class focused on finding treasures wherever they are. Armed with pistols and guns, this guy blows up everything in his path. Tho know that it is considered a difficult class to learn and master. If you love guns and Sudoku choose a pirate. Necromanc is a bone-loving guy who likes to summon friends to have a good talk. Running with all sorts of poisons, he likes to build his own army to fight the enemy. If you like a semi-active style of playing spells henchmen is your class. Samurai Way samurai long and hard. This little bunch loves to slice and dice all kinds of things. He very quickly stands on his feet, hiding in the shadows only to strike all can and force. Loves katana and romance walk on the beach. If fast paced gameplay is your thing, it's your fit. Paladin is righteous, sturdy and somewhat holy this fighter. A melee class that has a wide range of buffs, auras and an infinite number of holy hammers. Like a Viking, he loves it. Let him go. Amazon This spear wielding beauty is armed and dangerous. With its aerodynamic silhouette it is very fast and agile. It also has a wide range of poisonous or lightning-fast charged tools in its kit to destroy entire armies of monsters. What she lacks in manners, she is now with a smile. If you like the range experience with a little melee twist she is your girl. Demonup this flying demon cannot be stopped by holes or rivers. With his spell of books and demonic habits he has a whole horn to fill all kinds of toys including a huge diabolical laser beam available in several colors. Do you like it? Demon Slayer Stylish as Dante, we present demon hunting, a charismatic weapon of wonder. Demonlayer carries weapons or swords and can go into melee or become the god of hell bullets. As a pirate it's not for the impatient kind, but a lot of fun once you get to know it better. A shaman with totems and rituals of nature, he likes to destroy everything that disturbs his attention. Various elements are in his arsenal of skills, but don't be fooled. He wears claws and loves it rough here and there. If you like the fighting caster type, this is your fluffy. White Magician Someone Said Healing? This white mender likes to help others. With buffs, auras and sometimes lighting in the right place he is a good member of your party. This guy really likes lancer. If the supporting role is more your thing it is your choice. Marauder Chains?! CHAAAINS!?! This guy loves his chains. He can do all kinds of monster smashing fun with them. Melee fighter with a morning star, an axe or a chainsaw. He will connect everything and everything at the end of his chains, including monsters. He is a melee and a bit sadistic. Plague Doctor This guy is breathing tear gas to get up in the morning. Anything that may be intoxicated, poisoned or infected with the virus will do it for it. It has a wide range of regional spells. Sometimes he likes to sip his own creations himself to increase his power. If you like crazy scientists, it's your boyfriend. Lancer Shield This guy needs no introduction. It is an indestructible stone where others run or cringe in fear. The ultimate shield-wielding, spear-carrying tank is the Hero of the Siege. If you don't want to die, he's your best friend, don't expect to storm the fort alone. Alone. Siege gets a great upgrade for season 10. All 17 classes now have a second tree of talent, not just one. Balancing across the board is being tweaked. The new Chaos Shrine feature, which is randomly generated in levels and has very random results, such as a screen filled with goblin treasures or maybe a portal to the dungeon. What is the siege of the hero? Hero Siege is a Bcrossplatform ARPG/B where players choose from 17 different classes to align, find prey, relics, run words, gems, mining, trade and compete in the leaders each season. If you are not in seasons you can play off-season or local mode. Leaders are made up of:1.) Solo class Wormhole (Compete against only your class)2.) Duo Wormochina3.) Trio Wormochina4.) Quad-core wormhole5.) Hero Levels If you put in the top 35 of the season, you will get a cosmetic reward at the end of the season. Top 1-3 spots get cooler looking cosmetics. The wormholes are endless scaling random dungeons with special bosses and increasing the rate of fall/XP. Although the game looks simple on the surface, it actually has a lot of depth in creating characters like Diablo 2.Here is a list of what settings you have on your characters:1.) Elements: White (General) Blue (Magic) » Yellow (rare) Orange (Legendary) Violet (Mythical) Red (Satanic) Runewords LightYellow (Angelic) Note of Prey /B/ Gear is not only about rarity, but also about the quality of the item. The quality ranges from 50-115%. So you can find a rare satanic item, but perhaps its only 76% quality. You can roll the quality with reroll tokens from mining. You can also upgrade satanics/runewords/angelic to 10/10 or 10 euros using rubies or token updates from mining.3.) Mercenaries. Your mercenary has a tree of talent and 4 item slots. You can even equip them with runewords to get auras like in Diablo 2.4.) Hero levels. After level 100, you get a hero level experience that you can use to get different statistics. Gameplay Cycle (As I see it): Choose Softcore or hardcore mode, then: Part 1: Full of normal and nightmare difficulties to get to hell mode. Part 2: Once in hell mode, satanic elements can begin to fall rarely. It starts at the end of the game. Part 3: Complete Hell Mode and see if your character can do hell mode. If not, then farm hell mode/trade with players until you're ready for hell mode. Part 4: Farm Hell Mode. It may be slow at the beginning, but once you get satanics and upgrade the outfit 10/10, it will get faster and faster. Part 5: Get a hero's level by cleaning maps, do wormholes, quests, dungeons, and ... Part 6: Tap the wormhole as far as you can. Try to get a top 3 spot to get those sweet cosmetics and bragging rights! Community content is available under CC-BY-SA unless otherwise stated.
