Chrysler Pacifica appeared as a 2017 model, at a time when other manufacturers refused or cut into minivans. It turned out to be time and money well spent: A beautiful look and refinement posted by Pacifica next to, if not ahead, of the family van package. Chrysler has made several changes for the 2019 model year. New 'S' The look package with black accents and wheels is available on hybrid models. The new 17-inch wheels are now standard on the Touring L Plus and hybrid limited trims. The LX finish acquires automatic headlights. Several models add a heated steering wheel. There are six levels of gas-engine finish: L, LX, Touring, Touring L, Touring L Plus and Limited. Hybrid powertrain models come in three trim levels. Lighter in weight and more efficient than it used to be, the Chrysler 3.6-liter V-6 develops 287 horsepower and 262 pound-feet of torque, driving a 9-speed automatic transmission. All Pacificas have front-wheel drive. Under the hybrid hoods, the 3.6-liter V-6 mates with electric motors that makes up a gasoline/electric transmission that includes electrically variable transmission. Hybrid Pacificas are estimated at 82 MPG (gas equivalent mileage) running on electricity alone. They can travel up to 32 miles on a battery, while recharging through a fork. Chrysler offers many customized options for specific models. These include a 20-speaker Harman Cardon audio, and a surround camera viewing system, and a towing package. Active safety features such as adaptive cruise control and head-on collision warnings with automatic emergency braking are also available at some trim levels. Blind zone monitors and rear parking sensors are standard. The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety gave 2019 Pacifica Good ratings in every test except for a minor overlap accident on the passenger side that was judged acceptable. Preventing head-on collisions is rated as Superior, as long as optional safety technology is installed. The ease of use of children's seats is considered marginal. The 2019 Pacifica earned the Top Safety Pick designation. Five-star crash test ratings have been published by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, both in general and for front-line and side impact. Only in preventing tipping was a four-star rating published. But this is the estimated figure, and tall vehicles tend to get four stars. Prices don't include a $1,495 destination charge. The 2019 Chrysler Pacifica L ($26,985), the base model, has a 3.6-liter gasoline engine and front-wheel drive. Standard features include fabric ups ups and downs, a third row of folding seats, a 7.0-inch touchscreen with Apple CarPlay and Auto. Bluetooth, 17-inch wheels, blind spot monitors, and rear parking sensors. The base models sit eight, with a second row bench. LX ($29,795) replaces second-row seats for seven passengers, adding passenger seat and overhead costs Touring Plus ($33,245) includes passive, goofy entrance, sliding side doors and liftgate, as well as satellite radio. Touring L ($36,545) features leather seats, heated front seats, a heated steering wheel and a chrome roof rack. The Touring L Plus ($39,395) comes with a 7.0-inch driver's dashboard, 8.4-inch touchscreen, heated front and second-row seats, and a 13-speaker Alpine audio. Limited ($44,445) gets loud sliding doors and liftgate, three-pan panoramic hatch, 18-inch wheels, HD radio, navigation, nappa leather trim seats, second and third row folding seating, and in a van vacuum. The Touring Plus hybrid ($39,995) comes with a 7.0-inch driver display, blind-zone monitors and sliding side doors. The Touring L hybrid ($42,195) includes heated front seats, perforated leather ups ups and a power lift. Hybrid Limited ($45,545) adds leather-trimmed seats, sliding doors and liftgate without loud force, as well as a heated steering wheel. Our automotive experts choose every product we select. The six-passenger Pacifica has three rows of seats, with the first two rows offering first class heated bucket seats. Getting in is easy, since a low pitch in height requires that passengers just step through into the vehicle. Power comes from the 3.5-liter SOHC 24-valve V-6 engine, which pairs in a four-speed automatic transmission with AutoStick. On demand will be offered all-wheel drive or front-wheel drive with traction control. In addition, Pacifica is equipped with a four-wheeled independent suspension, four-wheeled anti-lock disc brakes, side airbags, a lift door, adjustable pedals and satellite radio. Chrysler will present a production version later this year, with production starting in early 2003 as a 2004 model.
