Exciting power and ability with so many different parts and colors. When you're just starting out, you think it sucks, that you don't have complete control over your Beyblade, but once you play more, you'll find it wiser to bet to go it alone. But what I hate is that you have to wait forever to have a game with another player. Another thing is when you use some resistance because it has to run through the stadium. But most of the time after using all your energy doesn't work, but it just goes and attacks the enemy's head to destroy itself.
