elevations varying from about 1000 meters (3280 ft) to over 8000 meters (25, 900 ft). The terrain is made up of plains (Ganga-Yamuna Doab), grasslands and the highlands in the north. Climate : There is great variation in climate throughout the country.

The plains of India are generally hot in summer and cold in winter. In the western parts of the country, hot, arid conditions prevail. In the northwest, temperature varies between 45 and 55 degrees C (113 to 131 degrees F), with rainfall around 250-450 mm (10-18 in) annually. Khandu Part of The book is about the khandu, a tribal people who live on the borders of India and Tibet. There is also information about the culture and history of other ethnic groups such as the nomads or the tribals and the classical religions of India. Tajmahal is a great monument of India. It was built by Emperor Shah Jahan in the 16th century to commemorate the love of his wife Mumtaz Mahal for her deceased husband. The cities of Delhi, Agra and Jaipur were part of the mughal empire and have great cultural significance in Indian history. This book is a high school textbook for History and Culture. It also includes biographies of great rulers and 520fdb1ae7
