

At Virtual Retail we develop cutting-edge Machine Learning & Deep Learning solutions for companies to leverage AI and Computer Vision. We are part of the internationally operating ifm group with more than 7.300 employees.

Our machine learning based body scanning technology can calculate accurate body measurements from just 2 photos. We empower our B2B customers across online fashion, fitness, sports, health industries to create even more personalized user experience for the mass users. To strengthen our team, we are looking for:

Full-Stack Developer / AWS, REST API, JavaScript, Node.js (m/f/d)

Full time / in Siegen

Your Responsibilities:

- Maintain, design, and build APIs, services for our infrastructure in Amazon Cloud Services
- Continuous integration and continuous delivery (CI / CD)
- Further development of our frontend applications using HTML, ES6+, Angular, and Vue

Your Profile:

- Successfully completed studies in (applied) computer science, software engineering, business informatics or comparable subject
- Hands-on experience with AWS, especially with services such as Serverless, Lambda, S3 buckets, and EC2
- Knowledge in CI / CD and AWS CodePipeline
- Advanced knowledge and experience in modern web technologies such as JavaScript, HTML/CSS, Node.js
- Hands-on experience with web development frameworks such as Angular, Vue, or React
- Solution- and team-oriented as well as able to work independently and proactively
- Good English skills in reading and writing

Your Advantages:

- Flexible working hours and home office opportunities
- Great potential for personal and professional development
- Agile structures and flat hierarchy
- Modern office space with free fitness room, fruit and drinks
- Working with state-of-the-art technologies

You are interested? Then apply now and send your application to jobs@virtual-retail.com. We are pleased to meet you!

Virtual Retail GmbH, Martinshardt 19, 57074 Siegen