The brand gets a lot of heat for being unoriginal (well really, how much can you do with a bandage dress theme, over and over?) and for being fashionable ahead. Herve Leger is not the brand I choose for the fashion crowd, but more often or not, it is a manufacturer to go into dresses for men pleasing. Some thoughts for the Herve Leger below: 1. As mentioned above, this dress will make your friend/husband happier than the cape as the Dries/Margiela piece you just bought and spent $2k (for sale) for which features amazing bat wings. That being said, a pro is also a fraud. This past weekend in Las Vegas I've seen more stars gathered at the Herve Leger store than anywhere else, but AVN convention. (The second most popular meeting place was actually Louboutin, but I don't want to think about it right now). It has been said that the dress you are looking for has just been sold to one of the Kardashian sisters is just as stressful. I have nothing against stars or Kardashian sisters - however, these ladies have already been blessed either naturally or artificially by the gods above us... and I really do not need to have a direct comparison with ...! 2. Sale. With the exception of classic black (and even not), most Herve Leger dresses will go on sale. I didn't buy a dress that wasn't at least 40% and even better, 60% off for a long time. The whole store will have 10-15% of sales as well so please wait until you buy. Even for the black ones. Even if a sales associate tells you they never go on sale (it will). If you don't want to live near the store contact me and I'll find you a good sales associate who will send you photos and email you the dress. 3. Performance excellent dress prices, some may turn to eBay. I'm as big a fan of eBay as another person, but there are plenty of Herve fakes in place. Make sure it is authentic. And just a brief note that despite their high price, real Herve dresses are made in China, too. So be careful! 4. My last tip for you is on size. The reason for many to buy Herve dresses through cheaper knockoffs from bebe/cache and the like is that Herves are of high quality: a.s.a., bandages will actually work to shape your body in a flattering shape, rather than emphasize it, and even add more rows of muffin tops to your torso. To this end, business partners often encourage you to get the smallest size possible. The smaller the size, the more magical the suction force. However, also more annoying (for me personally at least). I like to wear comfortable clothes as much as possible, and therefore the size above what the sellers recommend. Everything is still very tight and I still do the save when wearing Herve and downing pizza so we think it works well. Also, if you buy too tight a size, you will not be able to wear any underwear. Which, depending on your situation, is either a plus or a minus. Enjoy it, everyone! Most Herve Leger dresses are true in size, but there are a few exceptions. For example, many fall 2008 dresses run particularly small, while some dresses in 2009 and 2010 run a little big. So, what's a girl supposed to do?!? We've got you under controll! I was looking at that super-gorgeous Herve Leger dress, but was he afraid it wouldn't fit? We've put together the most comprehensive online sizing guide to help you figure it out. If you're new to Herve: Here are some reference tables to help! First, determine your true size based on your body measurements: In general, Herve Leger garments run true to size, so you should be fine in most cases. If you want to be extra careful... ask the seller whether the dress (or top, or skirt) runs faithful in size, small or large. Sometimes a seller may have a different idea of the actual size or not know how their Herve compares to others. If this is the case, you can ask them to measure the dress - when they are laid flat (i.e. unaswed). True to size measurements for each Herve size are: For example, the true size of a small dress (unfolded unstretched) will measure approximately 28 inches for the bust, 23 inches for the waist, and 30 inches for the hips. If you already have a Herve Leger that fits well: Measure the perfect dress through the bust, the smallest part of the waist and hips, while it is laid flat (not pinned). Don't bother worrying about the actual size.... Other Herve Leger dresses with similar measurements will most likely fit you as well! Quiz:1. What size do you usually wear in a dress numbered: a) US 0-2, UK 4-6 or EU (b) US 4, UK 8 or EU 36 c) US 6, UK 10 or EU 38 d) US 8, UK 12 or EU 40 e) US 10, UK 14 or EU 42. What size jeans do you usually wear? a) 23-25 b) 26-27 c) 27-28 d) 29-30 e) 31-32.3. What size jacket do you usually wear? (a) US 0-2, UK 4-6 or EU 32-34 (b) US 4, UK 8 or EU 36 (c) US 6; UK 10, or EU 38 d) US 8, UK 12, or EU 40 e) US 10, UK 14, or EU 42Is far as you've answered: mostly a's:: you're XXS of faithful size or most Herve Leger dresses..mostly b is: then you're an XS of a faithful size or most Herve Leger dresses..mostly c : then S..mostly d is: then M..mostly e is: then L. Do not be surprised. Herve Leger should sit tight. Sometimes it may require someone to help you into your clothes. Don't forget to check out the amazing selection of Herve Leger in Lollipop. While he won a place in art school he quickly found out it wasn't his match. In 1975 he changed his profession and became a hat manufacturer. In 1980, fashion legend Karl Lagerfeld caught his eye with Leger's work and sent him to Rome for further training. Leger had his ups and downs, like any designer. In 1992 seagram group of Canada, received 50% of the funding and Leger was able to develop his own company at 21 rue de Fauberg St Honore, the famous Street of Couture, in the building where Coco Chanel once lived. He leads a team of about 30 people. In shoes today his website shows only one bootie, Mercer, in four colors. Colors.
