It is operated by Northside's Community Education Department. This section, in addition to the expectations of the Texas Education Agency, is in line with nisd's high standards of all staff and maintains the rigidity and expectations of our students throughout the day. Enrichment activities are guided by the principles of Problem-Based Learning. Courses depend on the standards used by teachers, Texas Basic Knowledge and Skills (TEKS). Students experience these skills with applied, interactive and multi-sensory activities. Thus, facilitate activities: problem solving, creativity, intellectual curiosity, and flexibility. Monday, November 2- San Antonio youth leader TXAwesome to work in awesome place for college students if you enjoy working with children and go to school in the morning or sign up if you plan to become a future educator. There are also summer camp job opportunities with students. You can either work as a youth leader or general assistant in a secondary or primary school. Really great experience overall!!! But if you're wanting more hours it might not work for you. San Antonio Elementary/Pre-K Youth Leader, TXHonestly, this is the best place I've ever worked and I couldn't appreciate it any more to get the opportunity to be part of the learning tree. Working here made me realize that I love working with children, and it's a very enjoyable job. The only drawback is certainly not the salary paid for damaging holidays. They only allow 6 days for absences, which can be a problem if you have personal/sick days, but you usually understand and try to help so that it doesn't count too much against you. My site leader and expert understand and care very well about youth leaders. Best place to work hands down! Youth leader San Antonio, TXGood learning opportunity and great colleagues. You have to enjoy working with other wise children, which is not the best job for you. It is also especially important to be able to communicate with parents. After the San Antonio School Teacher, TXVery is an enjoyable place to work, they are understanding that something happens and they are there late or unable to do so. I've learned that it's going to take a lot to educate and manage a group of school-aged kids. Everything was fun. Youth Leader/Site Leader Anson Jones Middle School Checkin with students establish a relationship with both parents and students, as well as faculty and staff. It's an afternoon evening job but time passes as fast as you stay involved in the process. People asked 7 questions about working in the NISD Learning Tree. There were no skinny jeans and most staff were college students. The best experience may ask if the children you work with will affect you for the rest of your life. He's going to meet some great kids. You'll be yourself all the time. They may drive crazy from time to time but they will have an eternal love for children. Was this review helpful? I teach kids to understand that my job is very friendly with employees and students. Was this review helpful? It was fun working with amazing kids and working with employees. Constant teamwork was involved, work and play went hand in hand. The managers were also very cooperative and helpful. It was hard to discipline some kids, but nothing got out of hand, mostly like all kids. I really learned how patient and caring and dominated being competent while I was having fun too! This review was The tree is great because you can work with children. The only thing I hated was how ready and structured the kids were after an eight-hour school. Most site leaders are expected to micro-manage youth leaders, creating a strange and unsym supportive work environment. Another thing is the lack of respect that receives the program from the hosting campus. Learning Tree is a good jumping stone and experience, if you plan to become a teacher, or work full time with children. No benefits, low wages, lack of support was helpful in this review? I enjoy the position but i don't want to continue working in the position with a bachelor's degree. I would love to further my career in a higher position with NISD's Learning Tree After-School Program. Was this review helpful? you are given a student class and given a strict program to follow. The hardest part is trying to fit everything they want you to teach the kids in such a short time. Was this review helpful? It should be said that this position of comfortable but Fast Paced Job! is the best position I have ever had. in terms of part-time and pay. Although I loved 'workplace culture', I enjoyed my time with colleagues and children. That said, you definitely learn a ton of work for the Learning Tree; I myself have just learned how to help and guide kids, but very much how to relate and work with them. Working with the K-5 forced me to re-learn and display a high level of patience and compassion. I loved my time with the kids and found the staff of the Learning Tree fun and insightful. I also got my first aid license for free under NISD/Learning Tree. Free Tutorials, Learning Experiences, Testimonials Was this review helpful? Working with the Northside Independent School District as Youth Leader was a great experience. I learned a lot from the kids. I would recommend it to anyone who wants to work with children to work with the learning tree. Was this review helpful? It's probably one of the best jobs I've ever had. The only thing I loved was that my agent made friends with everyone and proved to be a great mentor. Be with the kids all day. Was this review helpful? A productive and fun workplace. It's an excellent job for young college kids. This was great when I went to college. It fits my school schedule. The children are well behaved and respectful. His colleagues are good and professional. The boss is good and professional. Cleaning is my least favorite part of my job, but it's not hard at all. Being around kids and interacting with them every day is the best part of my opinion. He works with my college program. Was this review helpful? The study begins at the end of a typical day school day, students check the after-school program, then switch outdoors to an active health-oriented curriculum CATCH (mostly games), then switch back off and distribute a snack. When the snack is finished, we go to a classroom room and they are allowed to do their homework while giving private lessons if necessary. We'll teach you our curriculum when homework time is up. After that it gives them time to have outdoor fun. All this time, parents are controlling their children and classes are decreasing in size. The managers are great and very helpful. Was this review helpful? It's a great after-school program to work for a very good program, limited to just hours of after-school care for Tree Learning. A typical day will consist of teaching a course provided while helping students with homework and then having to deal with the problems that arise throughout the program, I worked with 4 and 5 graders. The way management works is that there are 4-5 schools, then an expert who is a site leader in each school. Both people support the actions you take with the class, whether it's a behavioral or academic action. The hardest part was not knowing how students would behave. The most enjoyable part was that you could see the students growing and maturing throughout the year. Was this review helpful?
