She investigates the area, and finds a strange black rock that levitates. She meets Cole, a boy around her age who lives in the area, and together they investigate the Loop, a strange facility by their houses. Loretta continues her search for her mother, Alma, and comes across Cole's mother, who is revealed to be a time displaced version of her. Together, they return the black stone to the Loop. Older Loretta comforts Cole, fearing she has not been the best mother. 2"Transpose"So Yong KimNathaniel HalpernApril 3, 2020 (2020-04-03) Cole's older brother, Jakob, and his friend Danny discover a strange pod in the forest that allows them to switch bodies. They decide to live each other's lives for a day, but Danny begins to covet Jakob's life. He persuades Jakob to wait another day but then refuses to switch. Jakob, confused and distraught, tries to switch back into his own body without Danny being present, with disastrous results. Danny goes back to the pod but finds it being taken apart, then finds a robot that houses Jakobs real consciousness. 3"Stasis"Dearbhla WalshNathaniel HalpernApril 3, 2020 (2020-04-03) May, Jakob's girlfriend, finds a strange device in a lake. While at a wedding, May befriends Ethan, a boy with a foot disability. Ethan helps May steal a component for the device, and she inserts it to activate the machine. May kisses Ethan, but she leaves and she finishes the machine which, when she turns it on, temporarily freezes time. They spend a month together, having fun, and eventually pronounce their love for one another. After finally deciding to resume time, May discovers that an integral component of the machine is broken. She and Ethan go looking for a replacement, and after they find one an argument sparks and Ethan disappears. She finds Ethan, resumes time, and days later they reconcile. 4"Echo Sphere"Andrew StantonNathaniel HalpernApril 3, 2020 (2020-04-03) 5"Control"Tim MielantsNathaniel HalpernApril 3, 2020 (2020-04-03) 6"Parallel"Charlie McDowellNathaniel HalpernApril 3, 2020 (2020-04-03) 7"Enemies"Ti WestNathaniel HalpernApril 3, 2020 (2020-04-03) 8"Home"Jodie FosterNathaniel HalpernApril 3, 2020 (2020-04-03) Production Background Tales from the Loop is based on drawings, specifically the 2014 narrative art book of the same name by Swedish artist Simon Stålenhag; also drawing inspiration from the fact Stålenhag never fully explains what the science fiction objects he depicts do or where they come from. Development On July 17, 2018, it was announced that Amazon had given the production a series order for a first season consisting of eight episodes. Executive producers include Matt Reeves, Adam Kassan, Rafi Crohn, Nathaniel Halpern, Mark Romanek, Mattias Montero, Adam Berg, and Samantha Taylor Pickett. Halpern serves as showrunner and Romanek directed the pilot episode. Production companies involved with the series include 6th & Idaho, Indio, Amazon Studios, and Fox 21 Television Studios.[6][7][8] The first season, which consists of eight episodes, was released in its entirety on April 3, 2020. A first trailer was released on February that year.[1] Writer and showrunner Nathaniel Halpern drew inspiration from the short story cycle Winesburg, Ohio by Sherwood Anderson; its themes of loneliness and isolation, and its focus on small town characters.[9] Executive producer and director Mark Romanek drew inspiration from the Dekalog, the 10-part series of television films by Krzysztof Kieślowski. Other directors cited to influence the production include Ingmar Bergman, Yasujirō Ozu, and Andrei Tarkovsky.[10][11] Filming The team, headed by visual effects producer Andrea Knoll, attempted to preserve the "painterly feeling" of Stålenhag's artwork,[12] earning them an Emmy nomination for Outstanding Special Visual Effects in a Supporting Role.[13] In his attempts to "crack the code" of Stålenhag cinematographer Jeff Cronenweth chose to shoot night scenes during dusk instead.[10] Reception Critical response On Rotten Tomatoes, season 1 has a "certified fresh" approval rating of 85% based on 65 reviews, with an average rating of 7.23/10. The website's critical consensus reads: "Though the show around them burns a bit too slowly, Tales from the Loop beautifully transposes Simon Stålenhag's paintings into moving art and provides a welcome dose of warmth and humanity with its sci-fi."[14] On Metacritic, season 1 has a score of 68/100 based on reviews from 15 critics.[15] David Baird from The B.C. Catholic characterizes the series as "a set of loosely interrelated meditations upon ephemerality, the impact of technology, and human vulnerability infused with a mild science fiction savour" and considers it "a beguiling fusion of forward-looking nostalgia".[16] Joshua Thomas from The Michigan Daily simply considers it "superb sci-fi"; "exactly what good sci-fi should look like."[17] Writing for Firstpost, Prahlad Srihari thinks its "wide shots, the symmetrical frames, and the play of light and space all do justice to Stålenhag's retrofuturistic vision".[18] According to The Verge's Joshua Rivera, "Tales from the Loop is so pretty it breaks your heart."[19] Writing for /Film, Hoai-Tran Bui thinks the show explores "universal elements of grief, aging, parenthood, loneliness, and love" but also that it "often toes the line between beguiling and boring".[20] Polygon' Charlie Hall meanwhile, was left "feeling uneasy and confused."[21] Awards and nominations Association Category Recipient Results Ref Primetime Emmy Awards Outstanding Special Visual Effects in a Supporting Role Andrea Knoll, Ashley Bernes, Eduardo Anton, Julien Hery, Laurent Pancaccini, Andrew Kowbell, Alan Scott, David Piombino, Rajesh Kaushik (For "Loop") Nominated [22] Outstanding Cinematography for a Single-Camera Series (One Hour) Jeff Cronenweth (For "Loop") Nominated Visual Effects Society Awards Outstanding Effects Simulations in an Episode, Commercial, or Real-Time Project Dominik Kirouac, Gaël Chopin, Sylvain Nouveau, Laurent Pancaccini (For "Loretta's House") Nominated [23] References ^ a b "Video: "Tales from the Loop" - Official Trailer".
