children's hand eye adjustment and total motor skills. How do you ask your child to stand in an X-shape with stretched arms and legs. As soon as you hop, run, jump or tell them anything else, they'll have it. Don't give them too much downtime or rest. Anyone messed up the command and won the game as the last one standing! Be patient with your child when trying these activities. Spend time with them and guide them on the journey of learning. When you do it with your kids, it becomes much more fun. You can trust us on that. We hope you enjoyed our list and we encourage feedback. Write to us for
