There must be no extreme or astonishing styles or colors. Learn about uniform wear, enabled, and any other regulations or concerns you may have. General uniform rules: You must keep the form clear, clean, pressed and in the representation. The shirt must not show too many wrinkles and it must be pushed before each wear and tear. No stains or damage should be seen. Flight caps must be worn all the time outdoors, if you are not indoors you are then allowed to take off from your flight cap. Hands must be out of their pockets. Wind breakers must be folded as far as halfway. Service coats must be buttoned to the end. The blues must be buttoned to the end, if the cadet does not have a neck tab/tie, then the top button can be unbuttoned. Pockets must not be large or items must not be left out of them. Shoes should be liquefied as well as heels and edges soles. Gutters must be clean, too. All uniform accessories, such as belt buckles, ribbons, name tags and others, must be kept clean and representative. If the form or accessory needs to be replaced, contact your logistics officer. The uniform must be properly fit and not saggy. If the form doesn't fit properly, talk to your logistics officer to get a size that doesn't sag and fit. If you have more than one wire, only one wire is allowed on your left shoulder. Cadets must have suitable hairstyles/hair, fingernails (can only be a natural color and a French tip) and a face (men must have a clean shave, women with a suitable amount of makeup). Uniforms must be worn all day on designated days. If the cadet requires a formal change, he/she must have the permission of his substance(s) to amend them, but they must become uniform again if they are excluded from the class. Both of the following uniform rules share the following: The uniform must be on a representative display, for example in good condition, and either packed/with a button (depending on whether the uniform is worn). Wearing flying hats at a sufficient time is also something that both uniform regulations share, as well as being in a representative condition. You can wear a watch and rings while wearing a form, but no more than three rings are allowed at a time. A bracelet is allowed if it is clean and conservative and no more than half an inch wide, although painted or bracelets that support the cause are not allowed. Necklaces are allowed if they are not visible. Glasses or sunglasses the ornaments of frames or lenses are not uniform during wear. Glasses that are allowed and are correct to wear, such as clear, lightly damaged or special lenses suitable for suitable suitable cadets can be worn in uniform indoors or military formation. Sunglasses and glasses that are darkly tinted or mirrored lenses are prohibited. Sunglasses must not be worn in military formation. Eye glasses or sunglasses should not be worn around the neck during formation. Tattoos or trademarks are not allowed if you are or do not uniform, tattoos or brands anywhere on the body are not allowed, if they are obscene or if they are in favour of sexual, racial, ethnic or religious discrimination. If you bare a tattoo or brand, talk to your instructors about questions or concerns. Uniformed cadets must not come into contact with or attach to their ears, nose, lips, tongue or part of the body, or attach or attach objects, jewellery or parts of their bodies to their ears, nose, lips, tongue or part of the body. However, female cadets are allowed to store single approved earrings, puncture or staple-style uniform if approved. Hair Standards: Hair is tapered cut, does not touch the ears, does not touch the collar and is not more than about 1 inch long on top. The face is shaved, except for the permissible moustache.
