President's Message

By Carolyn Erratt, President

November is one of my favorite months. As a child, after the busy early fall "Back to School" activities, the familiar events in November and December always felt like a calm, predictable and loving time of the year. November brings family events, crisp, cool mornings, cuddly sweaters and short weekend trips. As a child, my dad's career in the aerospace industry meant several moves and changing schools often so the familiar events and reconnecting with aunts, uncles and cousins was always comforting. The smell of a turkey cooking, the sound of my mom's laughter coming from the kitchen was beautiful. Now the November and Christmas plans are planned by our adult daughters, and it feels like love. Now the turkey is cooked by my daughter and my husband, and their laughter fills my heart with love.

The programs and workshops are only some of the many benefits of belonging to this guild. The variety of creative professionals that our 1st Vice Presidents have brought to the guild has inspired me to try new techniques and expand my creative journey. I love hand stitching and Erin Eggenburg's presentation and workshop were so enjoyable. The process of slowly creating with needle and thread is calming and it is magical when the designs emerge on the fabric. Erin's creative journey and her self-confidence to take risks and try new ventures was inspiring. The Sachiko techniques I learned at the workshop are new skills that I can start incorporating in my own work.

I also belong to a guild in Northern California. Last week I attended their meeting via zoom. The speaker was one of my favorite podcasters – Brandy Maslowski of Quilter on Fire. The program focused on how quilting has helped her heal from her PTSD. Brandy is a retired firefighter from Canada and the things she saw as a firefighter, which was compounded by a toxic workplace, impacted her mental health. She said we can all “quilt to destress and calm your mind.” Her story of using her creative endeavors to heal pain, to relax had

This month's banner quilt is one my grandmother had displayed in her entry way. She is the one who taught me how to sew, buying me my first machine (from HSN!) when I was in high school. She loved antique quilts and put them on every bed in the house.

Ladies, I know you have a winter holiday quilt you are just dying to show off. Send me a photo and a brief description to be featured in December.

a thread similar to Erin's. Our creative hands can serve to bring peace, help us grow inner strength and lead us forward in life. Brandy also spoke about the value of friendship, and I wrote down this quote from her: "You choose your path by choosing your friends." This is so true when we surround ourselves with friends our lives are

UFO Challenge is Coming!

By Pam Gayle and Vicki Slone

Definition of a UFO (Un Finished Object): A quilt, wall hanging, table runner or other needle project that is in any stage of not being completed.

Soooooooo here's your last chance! Gather up 1-3 of your UFOs and challenge yourself to finish them. You can still sign up with Pam Gayle or Vicki Slone at the October Guild Meeting and commit to a finish month between November 2025 and January 2026 to have them completed (one per month please). Each time that you complete a UFO, you'll be entered into a drawing for prizes.

I'm so proud that 18 of our members have already taken the challenge! We saw two wonderful UFOs at Sew and Tell last month, both beautiful and with awesome stories. Check in with Pam or Vicki so that we can check you off the list.

The Recovering Perfectionist: Mending Workshop with Erin Eggenburg

By Denise Rainier

Every now and then, it's good to pause and wonder, how did we get here? For many of us, quilting and stitching have a way of finding us through a winding path – full of happy detours and creative discoveries. For Erin Eggenburg, that journey has been just that.

Before embroidery entered her life, Erin wore many hats – social worker, grant writer, real estate agent – but what she really wanted was to find a hobby or craft that was portable, affordable, and satisfying. Enter embroidery! What began as a “simple hobby” soon blossomed into a big adventure: She once embroidered 15,000 custom handkerchiefs that she sold on Etsy! That massive project became the seed for something even more meaningful – combining her passion for textiles with a mission to reduce waste. Today, Erin's creative reuse work through Sashiko mending blends sustainability, art, and a healthy dose of imperfection.

After Erin shared her story at our guild meeting, 25 curious stitchers joined her for a hands-on workshop to explore surface mending – a little embroidery, a little repair and a lot of play. Some of us were already familiar with Sashiko, some came from wool or crewel embroidery, and some were simply eager to try something new.

In the morning, we dove into Sashiko, learning how it differs from traditional embroidery. Sashiko thread, we discovered, is a sturdy, matte, single strand (no separating plies!) – perfect for reinforcing fabric and adding beautiful texture.

Erin encouraged us to embrace her guiding philosophy: “Perfection stifles joy, creativity and progress.” So, we let go. We experimented with uneven stitches, mixed thread colors, and laughed at our wobbly stars, which, by the way, turned out charmingly unique. Just like quilting, mending has its own meditative rhythm – a chance to combine color, texture and whimsy in ways that reflect you.

The atmosphere was full of laughter, encouragement, and delight. Erin remarked on how our group naturally celebrated each other's work – not a single judgmental word, only admiration and joy.

In the afternoon, we switched gears to sampler-making, revisiting some embroidery classics – running stitch, backstitch, split stitch, satin stitch, chain stitch, French knots and seed stitch. Erin invited us to play with length, spacing and overlapping, turning each sampler into a tiny playground of texture and creativity.

Along the way, Erin shared some wonderfully practical mending wisdom to take home:

- Whether or not to knot your thread ends depends on placement. Skip knots for knees and elbows.
- Be generous with your patch size; you can always trim later.
- Match the patch fabric to the original garment fabric for best results.
- Skip the Fray-Check! Frayed edges add dimension and personality.
- Crayola washable markers make great design tools on denim and linen (and Sashiko rulers help, too!).
- Don't fear freehand designs. They add charm and individuality.
- For tricky repairs, use 100% T-shirt jersey cotton for crotch reinforcement, or donor denim for full holes. Stitch the patch into the seams for extra durability.
- Threadbare thighs? Reinforce early using quilting cotton or denim similar to the original fabric.

By the end of the day, we may have all become "recovering perfectionists," embracing imperfection, finding joy in the process and discovering the beauty in every uneven, handmade line.

November Fabric Sale

We are thankful for the yards and yards of fabrics that have been generously donated to OCQG. Many of these donations go toward charity quilts, opportunity quilts, door prizes and games that help our guild.

Take advantage of the General Meeting price of $3/lb.

We will also have bolts of fabric – which will be awesome for backings!

To make this sale possible at the Starting at 6 p.m. Nov. 11

Opportunity Baskets

By Donna Hansen and Jeanne Dinkle

October was sure a fun meeting! I loved all the members who wore the fun hats many of us have made. Halloween has always been one of my favorite holidays! The six baskets brought in $245. I also received some great donations. Just a reminder, donations don't always have to be fabric or patterns. I also like to add little extra goodies to the baskets so if you have anything that you're thinking of getting rid of that would make a cute addition please send it my way. Before long I'll be starting on quilt show baskets and go through lots of fabric and little goodies. Also please remember if you get gifts in baskets over the holidays that you aren't keeping I can put them to good use!

Thank you Sherry Hoyt for stepping in and helping me when my sidekick, Jeanne Dinkle, was unable to come because of family obligations.

Our lucky basket winners were Susan Fisher, Marianne Scott, Ruth Saucedo, Teresa Campbell and lucky Anita Adriano who won two, including the cute witch's hat that Patti Pane made.

We are so lucky to have such a great guild with so many talented people but also where everyone helps when needed. Thank you all again for sending me home again with an overflowing wagon full of donations.

Round Robin Schedule

By Jill Ellert, Round Robin Coordinator

If you're unable to attend one of the meetings, please contact me in advance so I can pick up your current bag to swap and then get your new bag to you prior to the following meeting. That will keep us all on schedule!

May Meeting: Sign up! The more participants we have, the better! The goal is to have at least four borders added to each round robin project!

2

June Meeting: Bring your center and any fabrics you would like to make available to your border-makers. I will bag what you bring and distribute them to the other participants. No one will be aware of whose project they are working on and all making is secret!

3

August Meeting: Since we do not have a July meeting, you will return your first-round bags to me in August. I will swap bags for the second round. Don't tell people what you worked on!

4

September Meeting: Bring your second round bags to me in September. I will swap bags for the third round. And yes, it's still a secret what you worked on!

5

October Meeting: Bring your third round bags to me in October. I will swap bags for the fourth round. You guessed it ... still a secret what you worked on!

November Meeting: Bring your fourth round bags to me in November. We will go in front of the guild and you will each receive your own projects back for a big reveal!

Community Outreach Happenings

By Julie McCluney

At the October meeting we received 23 completed Quilts for Kids, 6 completed tops, 1 completed Quilt for Vets, 14 pillowcases, 5 receiving blankets and 12 various blocks.

Winners for the drawing were: Brandi Kelly-Contreras, Kathi Christensen and Irene Rainer.

On November 14 the OCQG Community Outreach will be gifting about 35 Veteran Quilts at the Women Veteran Social Connection Brunch! It would be very helpful and a show of support if several of our members attend to help pass out the quilts. Brunch will be at the Long Beach V.A. Hospital, from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. in Building 165, First Floor Room D101 (The Egg). Please RSVP to me so I can let them know how many of us will attend.

This month I wanted to show you some of the special work we do. Below are some photos of some of our recent quilts. Good work, members. I love how they are "sew" special!

Outreach should come from our hearts, I hate to put timelines or pressure on all you ladies, so never feel like you have to have a timeline on those projects. Many are ongoing so turn them in at your leisure. I know that some of you find the kits I put together challenging and if that is the case there is no shame in returning the kit unfinished. If you find the kit too hard or just don't have the time to participate, please bring it back. I spend quite a bit of time organizing and cutting and would appreciate it if you are not going to work on the project to bring it back so someone else can work on it.

I want to again thank Ann Chavez for stepping up and sharing the Community Outreach responsibilities with me. Also going forward if you have any ideas for our outreach let us know. Do you have a charity that needs quilts? Do you have a quilt block that would work for our projects? Ideas for workshop days? Your ideas are important to us, we want to keep things fresh and spark more interest in our philanthropic efforts.

NO WASTE METHOD FOR MAKING FLYING GEESE UNITS

(Makes 4 geese units)

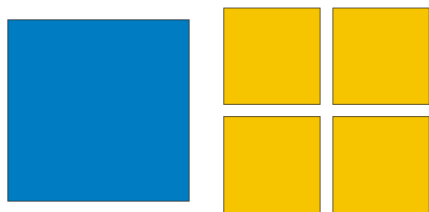

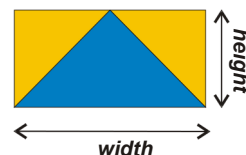

NOTE: These instructions give the formula for making Flying Geese units and do NOT give a particular cutting size. Just remember that the width of the finished unit is always twice its height.

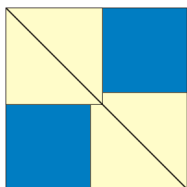

Size to cut squares:

Fabric A: Finished width of desired geese unit + 1 1/4" (1.25)

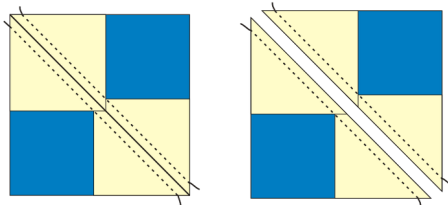

Fabric B: Finished height of desired geese unit + 7/8" (.875)

From Fabric A (the geese fabric), cut ONE (1) _____ square
From Fabric B (the sky fabric), cut FOUR (4) _____ squares

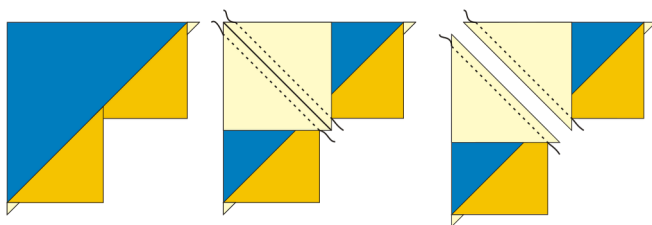

With right sides of fabric together, lay two of the smaller squares on the larger square, as shown. Using a ruler, draw a light pencil line diagonally from top left corner to bottom right corner.

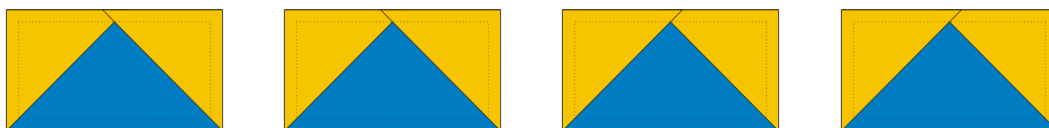

Stitch a scant 1/4 inch on both sides of the drawn line.
Cut apart on the center drawn line.

Note: If your machine does not have an accurate 1/4 inch foot, draw your stitching lines using a ruler and pencil.

Press seams toward Fabric B. Draw a diagonal line on wrong side of smaller square. With right sides together, lay one of the marked squares on the sewn unit and stitch 1/4 inch on both sides of drawn line. Cut apart on drawn line. Repeat with the remaining unit and the remaining smaller square.

Press your 4 geese units open and use them in your favorite quilt blocks!
