Emilio Sanchez Academy Barcelona

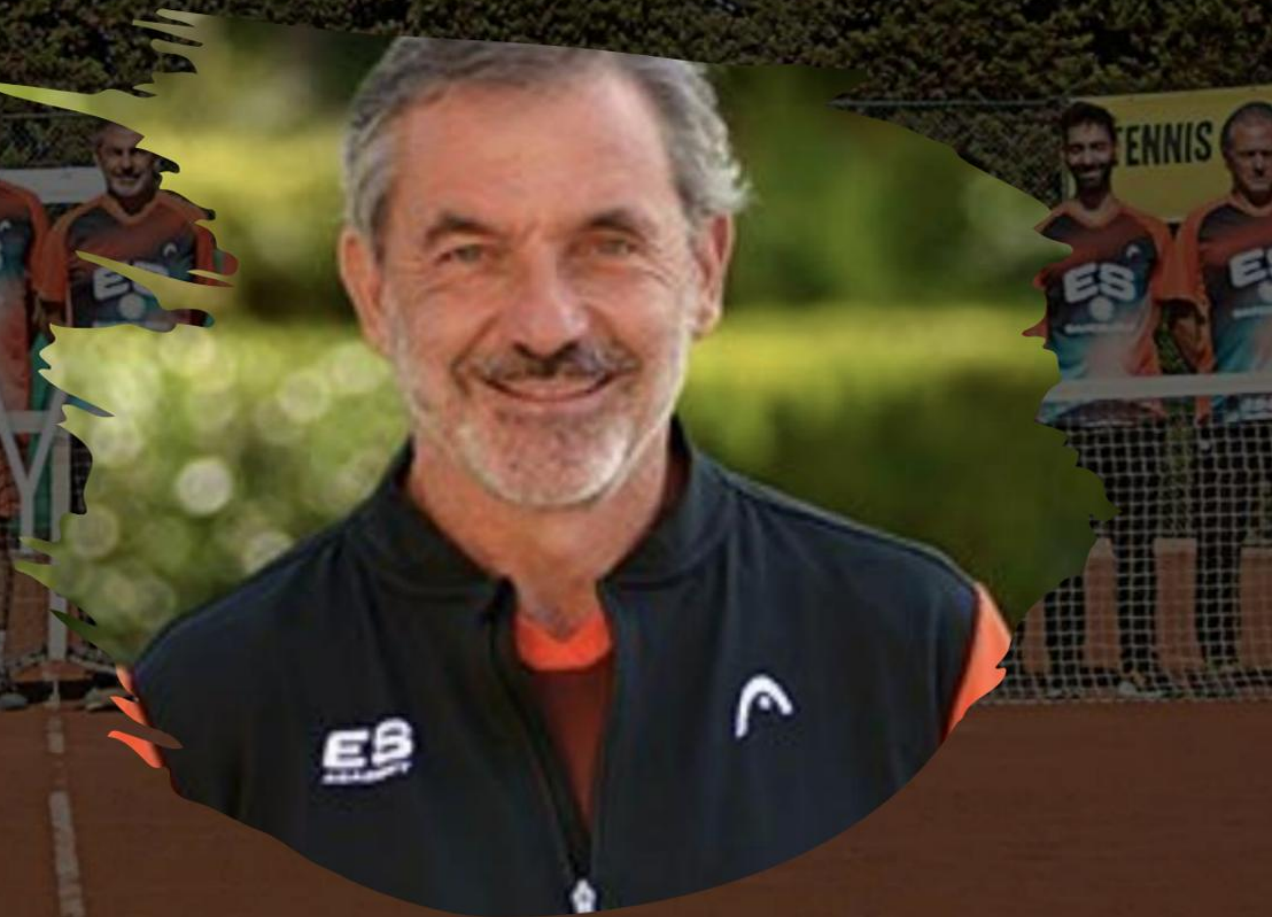

A successful model created by Emilio Sanchez Vicario and Sergio Casal in 1998. Using tennis and education within the Academia framework as the vehicle for personal development, our student athletes will continue to be good citizens of the world, long after they leave our care. The Emilio Sanchez Academy is considered as a well known reference for its unique training system established by coaches with worldwide reputation and for developing elite players such as Kuznestsova, Murray, Dimitrov, Hantuchova, Monaco, among others.

At the Emilio Sanchez Academy our Mission is creating opportunities in tennis, in education, and in life. We focus on teaching and harnessing our core values of respect, effort and discipline. We want to develop successful young people in all aspects of life, living in a family and thriving community.

Developing successful young people in all aspects of life, using tennis and education as the vehicle for personal development. Our Academy is more than a facility or regular training environment; it is a family and thriving community. For our students and staff it is their home away from home

Testimonies

- Through this competition, we also made many friends. My son warmed up with Japanese children and had a great time playing with them. Thank you very much. Moreover, the organizers did a wonderful job, and everyone was very polite. I really appreciate your help during this competition and tennis training in Japan. If you ever come to Shenzhen, please get in touch with me. I'll do my best to assist you. Thank you!
- My son shared his future dreams with his opponents after the matches. On the second day, after the match, he practiced doubles with three Thai players on the practice court. At the closing ceremony, he joined a circle of Korean players, and when leaving, we saw him taking photos and reluctantly saying goodbye. He has exchanged Instagram and LINE contacts with overseas players and seems to have already started communicating with them. This experience will not only remain a joyful memory in his heart but also continue to foster connections and exchanges among players even after the tournament ends. We are truly grateful for such a wonderful opportunity during this sensitive and formative period. Beyond winning or losing matches, he felt and gained a lot from this experience, which I believe will undoubtedly have a positive impact on his future tennis life.
- Once again, we thoroughly enjoyed the tournament. Above all, I am happiest that my son was able to reunite with tournament friends he had met before and spend time together again, as well as make several new friends this time, enjoying himself throughout the two days. That, to me, is the true charm of the ES tournament. Also, many players from overseas participated this time. Although my son speaks very little English, experiencing firsthand the challenge of not being able to communicate verbally was itself a valuable lesson. The desire to communicate despite language barriers and the hope to be able to do so is a new discovery and a step forward. The grass courts were very beautiful, and the food trucks were, as always, enjoyable. He was also very happy to get a new T-shirt this time. The overall atmosphere of the tournament was nice and relaxed, unlike the Kanto official tournaments where results tend to dominate and create tension. I want my child to experience such a different kind of environment as well.
- With players gathering from all over Japan and various Asian countries, my son faced opponents with different languages and cultures, and he seemed to think carefully about tennis strategies and how to spend his time during the trip. I believe this became another opportunity for his growth. Finally, I would also like to express my gratitude to the player from Shenzhen who kindly practiced matches with him at the very end.
