

Instructions:

1. Upload your draft research paper here to participate in the peer-review with a partner.
2. Then, complete a peer-review of two classmates using the questions below:

Please copy and paste the 12 questions and respond to each one thoroughly as you read through your classmate's paper. Please always provide suggestions for improvement in a kind and gentle way.

Copy and Paste these questions below:

Introduction:

1. How does the student open the paper? Is there an anecdote or a statistic or a type of "hook opener" to grab our interest?_____
2. Does the introduction: 1) define and describe the problem and (2) justify and frame this problem to convince your audience that the problem you're addressing and the questions you're asking are alive and relevant right now. Does it state the 5Ws for the problem (who created it, what it is, when it first became urgent, where it has occurred/is occurring, and why it is so serious)_____
3. Does the thesis provide specific historical moments/social trends were the most important factors leading to the current state of the problem? List those historical moments or social trends here_____

Part I: The Problem (Body Paragraphs)

4. Do the body paragraphs have topic sentences that connect back to the thesis? If so, provide an example of a strong topic sentence here_____
5. Do the body paragraphs have direct quotations from a variety of credible sources? Are the quotations set up clearly with the author or study introduced, the quotation with MLA citations, and a direct analysis of it (remember hamburger paragraphs)? If so, provide one example here_____
6. Is there a multimodal piece of evidence? If so, explain what it is and how it has been integrated into the analysis of the paper._____

Part II: The Solution (Body Paragraphs)

7. Is there a clear transition to introducing a viable solution? Where is this found? Is there an identification of 2 or more of the 5 criteria?

Peer-Review: Final Research Paper

8. How has the student used one of the courses' theoretical frameworks (global citizenship, viral justice, UN documents etc)? Is it connected well and coherent?

9. What type of solution is this? Is it micro, macro, grassroots, a law, a program etc? If that is not clear in the paper, gently suggest your classmate clarify that.

10. Is there a paragraph that includes counterarguments?

11. Does the conclusion make a sort of "plea for action" or end on an intriguing note?

Overall: Are there any easy to spot logical fallacies in any part of the paper? If so, please try to find a way to help fix it/them.

Make sure to conclude with a nice word of encouragement! 😊
