Cars instantly recognizable by their wheels Vaughn Gittin Jr tells us the Mustang Mach-E 1400 is the greatest thing he's ever built BMW's most controversial coolest cars with 13 future electric cars we can't wait to see 11 new cars that have to be successful Best $100,000 Cars and SUVs in 2020 the fastest German cars ever made . Apple TV Plus doesn't have any old movies in its content library (although recent reports claim that may change soon). However, the recently launched streaming service has several original movies available to its subscribers. So what are the best Apple TV Plus movies? Read on for more information, which includes a film that was originally set to run in theaters. Best Movies Apple TV Plus: Editor's Note: We'll update this list of the best Apple TV Plus movies regularly as new ones make it to the streaming service.1. BankerThis live action drama is based on true storytelling. Starring Samuel L. Jackson and Anthony Mackie as two real estate businessmen in the mid-1950s. However, two black men face racist views from white businessmen as they try to launch their efforts in Los Angeles. They decide to hire a white man, played by Nicholas Hoult, to be the public face of their company. Together they manage to become very successful property owners. Later, they use the same method to buy a bank in Texas, but things get a little more complicated. Of all the movies on Apple TV Plus, this is probably one of the most powerful stories and does a great job of portraying a story about race relations in the US that many people may never have heard of until now. 2. Beastie Boys StoryThis documentary, directed by Spike Jonze, is an obvious must for many fans of the hip-hop group. It goes deep into the band's history over the past 40 years and shows how they make their own mark in hip-hop and music in general.3. Elephant queen Dedicated to actor Chiwetel Ejiofor, this character documentary chronicles a part of the life of a herd of female-only elephants in Kenya. They are led by a 50-year-old mother of an elephant named Athena. The film documents the herd as they move 200 miles to provide a watering hole. The filmmakers recorded this herd for four years. It's a fascinating look at the largest terrestrial animals on Earth. HalaThi's drama follows the character of Hala, a Pakistani-American teenage girl. She tries to stay balanced while torn between her Muslim family and her American friends in high school. Geraldine Viswanathan perfectly plays the titular character, watching her become young Here we are: Notes for Life on Planet EarthThis animated film (more extended short than film) is based on Oliver Jeffers' best-selling children's books. This follows a 7-year-old, a 7-year-old, Jacob Tremblay, who learns about the wonders of the Earth from his parents, voiced by Chris O'Dowd and Ruth Negga. Meryl Streep tells the short film and should be very interesting for both children and their parents.6. GreyhoundThis World War II drama stars Tom Hanks as a U.S. Navy captain who leads a fleet of allied warships and aircraft carrier troops across the Atlantic. Without air cover, the navy will have to deal with Nazi submarines that will stop in no way to destroy the ships. This film, which Hanks also wrote, was supposed to be released by Sony Pictures in mid-June in theaters, but is now available for streaming exclusively on Apple TV Plus.7. The Boys StateThis documentary is a fascinating look at one of the most unusual high school events ever. Each year, 1,000 teen Texas male students converge on the state capital of Austin. Their goal is to create a mock-up of the Texas government, with the ultimate goal of electing one of their numbers as governor. This film shows how some of these teens have become laser-oriented at their goal of winning the governorship. In the process, they, and the rest of us, learn how real political parties can form into highly fractious units, and how ultimately they should come together to form a working government for everyone. These are the best Apple TV Plus movies you can stream right now, and it's not really a bad lineup. We will update this list as additional movies are added, including if and when the service adds old movies to its library. Samsung announced two new Galaxy Note devices last August. More of the two - the Samsung Galaxy Note 10 Plus - brings a lot to the table. From a larger display with higher resolution, better camera settings and a larger battery, there are plenty of reasons to get a bigger version of the Galaxy Note 10. If you are going to spend over a thousand dollars on your phone, it is important to keep it in excellent condition, however. Here are some of the best Samsung Galaxy Note 10 Plus cases currently available. Looking for more ways to keep your phone safe and get the most out of it? Be sure to check out our guide for the best occasions and mobile accessories you can get Best Samsung Galaxy Note 10 Plus Cases: MNML CaseSpigen UltraSpigen Rugged ArmorFYY Genuine Leather WalletEditor Note: We will continue to update this list of the best Samsung Galaxy Note 10 Plus cases as more become available. MNML Case for Galaxy Note 10 PlusLooking for a thin Note 10 plus case? There is no thinner case than the MNML case, which comes in only 0.35mm. It's so thin, it looks and feels like you don't have a case at all. It doesn't offer much protection from falling. It will protect you from day-to-day scratches that can accumulate. MNML Case comes in four different colors, including matte black, matte white, matte black and transparent transparent. Get a 15% discount with the code: AAN10P only in Ultra HybridThe first case of Spigen on this list - Ultra Hybrid - is another great clear case for the Galaxy Note 10 Plus. It offers quite a bit of protection, combining hard polycarbonate back and bumper TPU. The covered buttons are easy to press and accurate cutouts allow you to access all ports and functions. Spigen Rugged ArmorDespite, which implies its name, Spigen Rugged Armor is one of the best thin cases you can get for the Galaxy Note 10 Plus. This flexible TPU case is thin and lightweight, but offers pretty good protection using air bag technology and spider-web design on the interior that helps with impact absorption and shock variance. A lightly raised lip ensures the safety of the display and the rear camera. FYY genuine leather purse caseThe FYY wallet case is made with authentic leather and makes quite an impression. The front flap is in place with a magnetic clasp, and it can also be folded and used as a stand. There are three slots for credit cards and ID, as well as a large pocket for cash. It also comes with an RFID lock layer to protect your card information. Samsung S-View flip coverThe flip cover of this Samsung S-View case comes with a translucent edge through which you can see a lot of useful information - like time, incoming messages, notifications, and more - even when the cover is closed. You can also answer calls, interact with alarms and control music without opening the front cover. This is one of the most expensive cases on this list, but the unique features are well worth the price tag. Poetic affinityIf you are looking for a relatively cheap durable case, Poetic Affinity is a great way to go. It does an impressive job of keeping the phone safe and also comes with MIL-STD 810G-516.6 certification for shock absorption. Adding to the protection are reinforced angles and a raised lip around the display and rear cameras. Otterbox DefenderOtterbox tends to go to anyone looking for a solid case for their smartphone and the Defender series provides great protection. It is thick and bulky, with covered buttons and ports, and has a raised lip to keep the display safe. Otterbox Defender also comes with a holster clip belt. This durable case is costly and will be redundant for some. If full protection is what you want though, that's what you get. Samsung's rugged coverSamsung protective has a sturdy case available for its phones as well. This protective cover checks all the right boxes - MIL-STD 810G-516.7 certification, two-layer protection, and a built-in stand. The raised lip keeps the display and camera safe, the buttons are covered and you have easy access to all the ports and features like the S Pen. So there you have it for this round-up on some of the best Samsung Galaxy 10 Plus cases! Disney Plus is without a doubt the biggest launch in history streaming services industry.
