NMN and Discoverer

iHealth

- NMN is the first scientific research result that has been rigorously scientifically proven to significantly reverse aging and prolong life
- NMN was found in the lab of Prof. David Sinclair of Harvard University in 2013 to have anti-aging effects
- Professor David Sinclair is a Tenure Professor at Harvard Medical School and the discoverer of resveratrol
- Prof. David Sinclair was selected as Time Magazine's Top 100 People, Time Magazine's 50 Health People, and Two-time NASA iTech Award Winner for his discovery of NMN

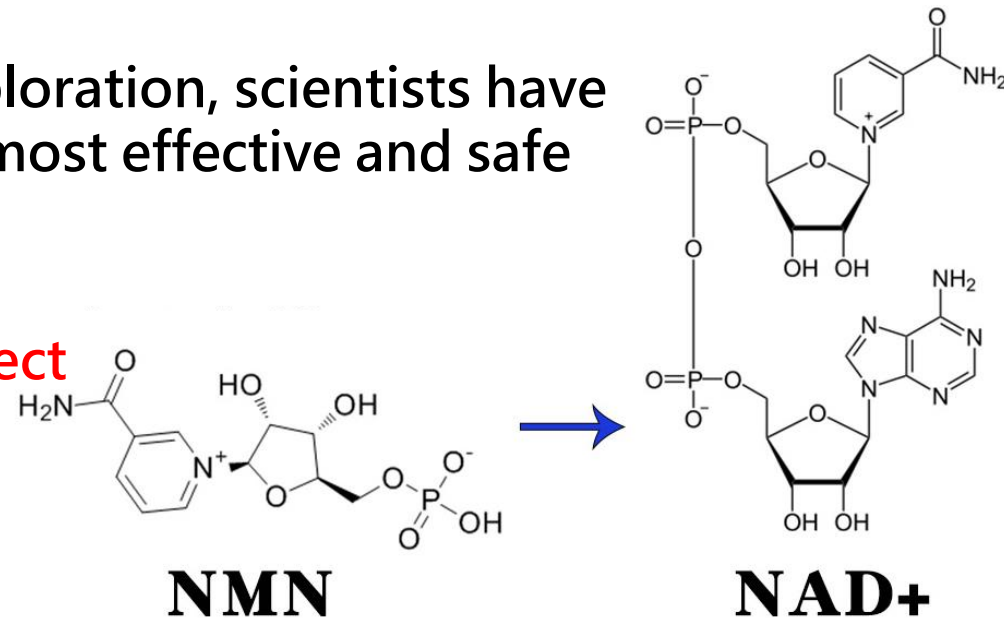

NMN and NAD⁺

- NAD⁺, also known as Coenzyme I, exists in every cell of the human body. It is an indispensable component of hundreds of enzyme proteins in the human body. It leads hundreds of life activities in the human body and participates in energy production, metabolism, glycolysis, and DNA replication, and other activities
- However, the molecule of NAD⁺ is relatively large, and it cannot produce effects on the human body through oral administration of NAD⁺
- Therefore, through decades of scientific research and exploration, scientists have found that supplementing the precursor of NAD⁺ is the most effective and safe way
- NMN is the precursor with the best NAD⁺ conversion effect. After oral administration, it can be quickly converted into NAD⁺ in the human body, and the effect is manifested through NAD⁺

NAD⁺ and Aging

- NAD⁺ originally exists in the human body, and the level is very high before the age of 25

This is the reason why children can recover faster even if their bodies are injured

- After the age of 40, the level of NAD⁺ in the human body will show a cliff-like decrease, so gradually there will be degenerative conditions such as cell aging and weakening of internal organs

- Without supplementation, the level of NAD⁺ in the body will only become less and less

Therefore, supplementation of NMN can effectively increase the level of NAD⁺ in the human body

This is an anti-aging solution recognized by the scientific community

Scientific Research Results

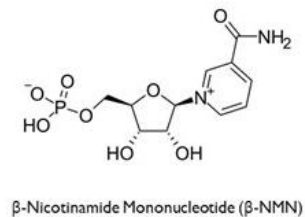

iHealth

- Several laboratories of top scientific research institutions such as Harvard University and the University of Washington have published papers on the anti-aging effects of NMN
- Research results have been published in top academic journals such as "Science", "Nature" and "Cell" since 2016, unanimously showing that NMN has amazing anti-aging effects
- NMN has been proven to activate 7 longevity proteins (Sirtuins) and DNA repair enzymes (PARP)
- NMN can enter cells to repair gene and DNA and genes through Sirtuins and PARP, so it has an excellent repair effect on organs composed of cells
