

IICF UK 2018 CONFERENCE ON LEADING DIVERSE THOUGHT & INNOVATION

On 7 March 2018, over 130 industry associates joined The Insurance Industry Charitable Foundation (IICF) at The Tower of London to hear inspirational and thought-provoking presentations on themes relevant to us all: diversity, leadership and innovation.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Conference speakers explored forces disrupting the Insurance industry and shared ways in which companies are bringing together diverse teams within and beyond their business to develop innovative solutions and to ultimately create better business results.

Questions posed by speakers include:

- How can we insure business of tomorrow today?
- How can insurers use data to protect assets, livelihoods and lives in local communities?
- How can we utilise new technologies to solve business problems?
- What role can we as leaders play to foster diversity?

Thanks to our speakers for insightful presentations.

PARTICIPANT FEEDBACK

'It was a pleasure and honour to participate to this event.'
Sabine VanderLinden, CEO InsureTech Business

'The IICF gets better every year. Seeing so many people attest to how diversity of thought can inspire innovation and be a catalyst for growth is very motivating as a young professional.'
Bobbie Mansfield, Digital Change Manager, XL Catlin

As a leader in the London market, the theme of the conference – Leading Diverse Thought & Innovation – was spot on. It was wonderful to see so many friends from the industry participate in a healthy discussion about such an important topic that will shape the industry for years to come!
