

University of Exeter

Master's in Extreme Medicine:

Guide to the Discount Policy for Prior
Attendance of Academy of Extreme
Environment Medicine (AEEM)
Residential course 'Expedition Medicine
Life Support (EMLS)'

Guidance

- How to apply for a discount:
- Prospective Master's Extreme Medicine students

To apply for a place on a Master's Extreme Medicine programme please visit the Extreme Medicine website

- Ask HLSenquiries@exeter.ac.uk about the AEEM Residential Prior Attendance Discount Policy associated with Master's Extreme Medicine programmes.
- To apply, send your discount application request to HLSenquiries@exeter.ac.uk attaching supporting evidence to show:
 - a) dates attended and that you completed the AEEM residential 'Expedition Medicine Life Support (EMLS)'
 - b) the amount paid for your place.
- The Master's Extreme Medicine Programme Directors consider your application.
- HLSPGT-PO@exeter.ac.uk will send your outcome to the email address you applied from.
(Please allow 2 weeks from application date)
- If successful, the outcome email will confirm the discount amount and the terms of acceptance.
- Reply to the outcome email to accept or decline the discount and terms before 01 August.
- If you accept, we will automatically apply the discount to your UoExeter-linked student account.

NB: To apply for a place on a Master's Extreme Medicine programme please visit the Extreme Medicine website.

T&Cs

Eligibility criteria, terms

Eligibility & Terms

- ❖ The residential applied for must be included in the University of Exeter Master's level in Extreme Medicine programmes.
- ❖ In the 2026/27 academic year the eligible AEEM residential course is 'Expedition Medicine Life Support (EMLS)'; successful discount applicants will be exempt from attending World Extreme Medicine (WEM) residential course 'Core Concepts'.
- ❖ Applicants must have completed the relevant AEEM residential course within the last three (3) years (36 months) of their Master's Extreme Medicine programme start date.
- ❖ Applicants must submit documentation as evidence to prove the above and the amount paid for their place.
- ❖ The outcome is decided by the Master's Extreme Medicine programme directors and is final.
- ❖ Successful applicants will receive the lower discount amount of either the amount they paid or the discount amount stated by the University of Exeter for the relevant academic year.
- ❖ Successful applicants must actively accept the offer of a discount within the stated timeframe on the outcome email.
- ❖ All students will be fully enrolled for their Master's programme modules and are required to complete all other teaching and assessment for each module, irrespective of residential discount/exemption status – including the teaching associated with WEM residential course 'Core Concepts'.

For further details on the policy please enquire via HLSPGT-PO@exeter.ac.uk

Questions?

Prospective students:

HLSenquiries@exeter.ac.uk