Timex 1440 sports watch manual

The Timex 1440 Sports watch gets its name from 1,440 minutes in a day. It is available in men's, women's and unisex styles, and in many colors. Priced at $20 in September 2010, 1440 is an affordable digital watch with calendar, stopwatch and alarm features. The clock is synchronized with the atomic clock, so you don't have to set the time manually. Setting up your 1440 Sports watch involves a one-time synchronization process. Specify city location and daylight saving time options. Press and hold the Set button. The city code letters start flashing. Use the Start/Stop button to flip the options until your location appears. Press the Mode button. Press the Start/Stop button to turn daylight saving time on or off. Tap Set to complete the process. Enable the receiver to synchronize with the atomic clock. Tap and hold Receive. An icon that looks like a T flashes to alert you to the receiver being turned on. At the top of the display, an indicator of the receiver level shows how strong the signal is. Watch on a flat surface. Turn it, slowly, 90 degrees, until you get the best reception. Leave the clock in this position until T stops blinking, indicating that the reception is complete. This process may take several minutes. Switch between 12- and 24-hour time formats. Press and hold the Mode button to change the time format. Enable the stopwatch function. Press State repeatedly until CHRONO appears in the display. Press Start/Stop to start the stopwatch. press it again to stop the stopwatch. Tap Start/Stop to continue, or tap Set to clear it. You can also press the Settings button while the stopwatch is running to mark a lap/split. Use the timer. Press Mode repeatedly until TIMER appears in the display. Set the countdown time. Press Set. The hours start flashing. Press Start/Stop to change the hours, and then press Mode to go to minutes. Use Start/Stop to change the minutes, and press Mode to go to the second setting. Press Start/Stop to change the seconds. When you're done, tap Set. Press Start/Stop to start the timer. Timex indiglo 1440 sports watch got its name for its Indiglo night light, which allows the wearer to easily read the clock in the dark and for 1,440 minutes in a day. All models are digital and have a lightweight resin case and resin strap. The Indiglo 1440 has a 24-hour chronograph, stopwatch function, alarm, timings for two time zones and a date function. To operate the watch, note the four buttons on the case edge: Indiglo light at 10 o'clock, Start/Stop at 10:00 a.m. Stand outside and see the direction to Colorado. Face east if you're in California - or west if you live in New York. Radio signals come from an automatic radio tower that signals the most accurate in North America. Make sure the clock shows time and day. Press and hold the Mode button, and then press the Start/Stop button. Continue pressing the Start/Stop button where and the city codes start flashing. Choose your city or city closest to where you live. Press the Daylight Saving Time button. It will flash On/Off/Auto. Select Auto. Press and hold the button until it says Receive. It will activate the receiver with a T flashing. The clock automatically sets the correct time to 2 a.m. each day. Tap Set to Exit. Repeat the steps in the first section. You don't have to stand outside. Press the Mode button until the hour flashes. Press the Start/Stop button until the correct hour appears, including the AM/PM reading, and hold down until the hour is back. Press the Mode button again, for the minutes, and repeat the procedure. Repeat the procedure for the seconds. Repeat the procedure for years, month, day and date. Press the Mode button again until the hourly light appears. Press the button until the on/off display appears. Hold down the button on either On or Off. The germ sounds at the top of the hour in which To is selected. Press the mode button until Chrono appears. Press the Start/Stop button to start the stopwatch. Press the button again to stop the stopwatch. Continue the stopwatch by pressing the button again. Press the button again, at which stop the stop stops. Remove the stopwatch by pressing the Set or Exit button. Press set mode to return to the time view while the stopwatch is still running, and the stopwatch continues until you return to the Chrono option to press Stop.
