Meanwhile, his son Sam was with a friend in New York City to attend the event. There they showed that rain had not stopped for the past three days, and after a series of weather-related disasters began to occur around the world, everyone realized the world was going into a new ice age, and the earth's population began trying to migrate to the warm weather of the South. Simon (Adrian Lester's) first appearance is when he is saying goodbye to his wife Jeanette (Anne Day-Jones), who is traveling to Spain; Terry Rapson (Sir Ian Holm) expresses his desire to stay safe in Spain and the sound of the storm; Explain his theory to the president in a map of television screens overlooking the ice in Europe, stopping in France and Switzerland, leaving Spain and Italy without ice. However, when two astronauts from the International Space Station look at Earth, they can see Spain and Italy fully covered in ice, as well as the rest of the continent. This is not necessarily contradictory, but the storm signals are more powerful than all of the scientists predicted.
