Koreandaytimes - WordPress.com SubUnit With HyunA As Trouble Maker Republika In December 2011, he formed a division with his label colleague, a former member of 4Minute HyunA, called Trouble Maker. HyunA had previously released two singles, but both described the unit as something other than each of their bands. The unit was officially named JS and HyunA, which Hyunseung continued to disclose on Twitter, including changing his new stage name for the unit. Jay Stomp. Trouble Maker debuted with a leading single and a MINI album called Trouble Maker. On November 25, 2011, the division began to reveal teaser photos from the album, revealing it with a private concept. The duo gave a teaser performance at the 2011 Mnet Asian Music Awards, with a kiss on stage. This album included the lead single Trouble Maker, as well as the ballad Words I Don't Want to Hear. The full clip was released on December 1, 2011. The duo's appearance with Trouble Maker on the weekly music show has been criticized by the Korean media for their sexual choreography. In response, CUBE Entertainment changed the choreography for the remainder of the Trouble Maker promotion. They also performed Trouble Maker on Cube concert in London and Brazil in December 2011. They won the triple crown on Mnet's M! Countdown with Trouble Maker. Kpop Chart Former B2ST (BEAST) member Chang Hyun-seong left his fans for a while to fulfill their duties of goodwill. Hons-hyun reportedly secretly enlisted in the military. Some time ago it was reported that a former member of BEAST was going to start compulsory military service in July 2018. On July 24, 2018, Cube Entertainment announced, Chang Hyun-seung began his mandatory military duty today. Because he wants to enter the military area calmly, we decided not to declare the place and time, - said the interlocutor of the agency. Before officially serving as an active soldier, Hyun-se must first complete a five-week basic training period, and only after that he will be able to begin his service as an active soldier. The latest news of Chang Hyun-sung MoonROK After leaving the group, BEAST, Hyunseung is now rarely heard from. This is because the former member of the Beast was active in the army in his military program. Known as an eccentric singer who likes to act strangely, netizens had no idea that Hyunseung was accepted into the active army. It is a matter of pride, because it is not easy to be elected an active soldier. After eight months of military service, photos of Hyung-sung's call began to spread on internet forums. Several photos of Hyun-segun with his colleagues were seen at the forum. Hyunseung, who wore an army uniform completed with a beret was very happy and cheerful to pose with his friends. Users of the network, who saw the photo, immediately praised the singer born in 1989. According to netizens, Hyunseung looks happier and brighter on the wax than when he became an idol. Some netizens even praised it by saying there was bright energy emerging from The Hyunseung. Pinterest I personally think Hyunseung is not suitable for the entertainment industry. He looks much more comfortable and better in the army, said one netizen. It looks much brighter and better, continued another netizen. He looks like the other person looks good,' said another netizen. Support for Netizens doesn't stop there. Many netizens also hope that The Happiness of The Hyunseung during this military training will last until he comes out later. They hope that Hyun-sung will get enough rest from military training and will return quietly. I hope that returns with that smile, the network's users wrote. People sometimes forget how the military also helps make them feel like ordinary people again, no need to worry about cameras, looks, etc. He may be happy to be around some ordinary and normal people (non-celebrities), said another netizen. It was all information about Chang Hyun-sung, a former member of B2ST. From his profile, facts, military enlistment office, to his latest news. Don't forget to kindly share your thoughts in the comments section below! Sigh. Two more of our K-Pop/expensive dramas have gone to war. Chang Kyung-suk (Switch: Change the World) went to the service on July 16, and Chang Hyun-hyun on July 24.Chan Geun-suk came to the military enlistment office with a big noise. When it was released that he would join as a Level 4 soldier, the actor decided to release a press release revealing the reason for his reduced rank. (In case you are not familiar with the Korean military rating system, Level 4 means that the soldier is a civil servant and not part of one of the traditional military industries such as the navy, army, etc.) The reason is that Chan Geun-suk suffers from bipolar disorder.Bipolar disorder is a condition that affects people's moods, creating huge fluctuations from manly highs to depression lows that can every last week. According to an interview with Chang Kyung-suk, he was initially diagnosed in 2011, but decided to keep the diagnosis a secret. However, with the announcement of his Level 4 status, he made the bold decision to reveal his condition. It must have been a very difficult decision for him to declare something so personal to the public. We hope his fans have supported him and that he will feel better soon. Chan HyunseungOn the other side, Chan Hyunseung enlisted without much fanfare yesterday, July 24. Hyunseung is the hit singer best known for his work with K-Pop band BEAST in 2009-2016. Together with BEAST, Hyun-sung received the Artist of the Year award at the Melon Music Awards in 2011. More recently, Hyunseung has branched out with singles, and within a short time he formed the band Troublemaker with vocal artist HyunA.Jang Geun Suk will be returning to the drama some time around April 15, 2020, and Chan Honshun will return around April 23, 2020. Good luck to the boys! We'll be waiting for you. Check out our military status page for military release dates for all your favorite Korean stars. (source, source) A similar sourceRelated
