Disclaimer: The information provided in the New Beginnings with Rosanna, LLC programs, services, classes, retreats are not offered as medical or psychological advice and should not be considered medical or psychological advice. It is not intended to replace your relationship with your healthcare provider nor should you stop taking any medication. Always seek the advice of a physician or qualified healthcare professional regarding any mental, physical, or emotional conditions.

In accordance with the latest FTC guidelines, it is our responsibility to clearly communicate to the public that our customer testimonials are based on the unique experiences and circumstances of only a percentage of our paying clients. We cannot promise that you will experience similar benefits from using or experiencing a New Beginnings with Rosanna, LLC product, coaching, services, classes or live event.