CREATIVE CONTENT CHALLENGE

Marketing teams already have enough to do. Making content for the sake of having content is not good enough. Content is how you solve business challenges.

Every brand has the marketing challenge of content creation, but you also must leverage creative content for collateral, drip campaigns, and social channels.

Everyone knows video is what audiences prefer, so give them something humanistic, and visual.

CONTENT COMPELS

BUYERS WANT AUTHENTIC CONTENT

Buyers want human stories, so give them real, relatable content that isn't for your brand, but for your audience.

Create ritualized, genuine, inspiring content and keep your audience engaged.

THOSE DRONES

Don't just make content.
Make new nostalgia.

Create memorable, authentic content that stirs, ignites, and inspires.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

NICE WORDS FROM AMAZING PEOPLE.

Those Drones and my friend Brian Siskind doing what he does best - looking at the world from a different perspective. What a beautiful thing to share these awe inspiring videos and pictures. It's inspiring to see the world from a new view!"

Jeff Coffin - Dave Matthews Band

"As the Metro Council person for District 20, I've been fortunate enough to be able to utilize Those Drones creative drone work to visually document the changes in our community. It has given us a broader perspective on growth with his beautifully produced video series, but also has given our community positive media exposure. His drone coverage has even helped us advocate for getting thousands of trees planted in our district!"

Mary Carolyn Roberts, Nashville Metro Council

"Brian's efforts to document Nashville's endangered historic places with the use of a drone and music is ingenious and aligns perfectly with Historic Nashville's mission. We are so appreciative that Brian creates these stunning videos that show images of historic places that are often overlooked, unknown, and cannot be viewed from the street. The aerial views are important for not only documentation and education, but also for inspiring action and advocacy. Brian's creative work is helping promote and preserve the historic places that make Nashville unique, and for that we are truly grateful."

Robbie D. Jones - Historic Nashville, Inc.

"We are some lucky people to be graced with the work of Brian Siskind. Incorporating his drone work into our projects has boosted our production quality for sure. It's straight bad ass. He's one of the best in town and we are incredibly grateful for his gift of drone madness."

Scout Fox Productions

"I never knew that drones could be artistic! Brian's work is more than just the incredible views. More and more real estate companies are turning to drone photography and videography to document their projects, but Brian's work manages to stand out. His work goes beyond your standard construction aerials as he truly brings the project to life.
