

Interactions, Trade, and Mobility in Archaeology

GAO International Conference 2021

DAY 1, 7th MAY 2021: SOCIAL INTERACTIONS

10:00–10:20

Welcome Remarks and Introduction to the Conference by the Organizers
Angela Falezza and Dimitris Karampas, University of Oxford.

Keynote Speaker

10:20–11:20

Dr Francesco Iacono (Università di Bologna)

Interaction and its consequences: assessing the nexus between economic interaction, mobility, and settlement dynamics in the Mediterranean Bronze Age

11:20–12:40

Coffee Break

Session 1-Interactions in Context

(Chair: Dimitris Karampas, University of Oxford)

11:40–12:00

Dominic Pollard (PhD Candidate, UCL)

Micro-Regions and 'The Great Divide': Connectivity as a Concept in Cross-Disciplinary Research on Late Bronze Age and Early Iron Age

12:00–12:20

Gonzalo Linares Matás (DPhil Candidate, University of Oxford) and Jonathan Lim (DPhil Candidate, University of Oxford)

Connectivity and socio-economic interactions across time and space in Southern Mauritania.

12:20–12:40

Dimitris Papageorgiou (PhD Candidate, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens)

Intra-site interaction and ethnic identity formation: the case study of Tell Kazel.

12:40–13:10

Posters Presentation

13:10–13:40

Lunch Break

Session 2—Matters of Agency and Power

(Chair: Anna Barona, University of Oxford)

- 13:40–14:00 Christos Giamakis (PhD Candidate, University of Sheffield)
Emerging Identities in Archaic Macedonia: An Agency-based argument against the oversimplification of complex social realities.
- 14:00–14:20 Mikel Wein (PhD Candidate, University of St. Andrews)
Symbols in Motion: a semiotic approach to networks of interactions.
- 14:20–14:40 Jiyoung Park (PhD Candidate, Seoul National University), Matthew Conte (PhD Candidate, Seoul National University) and Yongje Oh (PhD Candidate, Seoul National University)
The introduction and spread of a new technology: an agent-based modelling attempt.
- 14:40–15:00 Georgios Koukouvelis (PhD Candidate, University of Cambridge)
Between Αρετή and Virtus: Establishing Common Ground in Late Hellenistic Athenian Portraiture.
- 15:00–15:20 Coffee Break

Session 3-Interactions of Social Practices

(Chair: Angela Falezza, University of Oxford)

- 15:20–15:40 Corrie Hyland (DPhil Candidate, University of Oxford)
Isotopic evidence of coastal-highland interactions during a ritual killing event in the Virú Valley, Peru.
- 15:40–16:00 Jan Sienkiewicz (PhD Candidate, University of Cambridge)
Social Assemblages of Things: Drinking practices and interregional interaction in the Late Bronze Age east Mediterranean
- 16:00–16:20 Dr Meagan Mangum (Early Career Researcher, Independent)
Identity and Oisyme: Greco-Thracian Connectivity in the Archaic North Aegean.
- 16:20–16:40 Wrapping Up

Interactions, Trade, and Mobility in Archaeology

GAO International Conference 2021

DAY 2, 8th MAY 2021: ECONOMY AND TRADE

10:00–10:20

Welcome Remarks

Session 1–Ceramics and Trading Networks

(Chair: Angela Falezza, University of Oxford)

10:20–10:40

Dr Carlo De Mitri (Postdoc Researcher, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam)

A Twilight Zone in the Adriatic-Ionian basin. Changes in material culture in Southern Apulia (3rd - 6th century).

10:40–11:00

Rafail Charalampous (MA, Independent Researcher)

Recontextualising the interactions, trade and mobility between Cyprus and Sardinia from the end of LBA to the IA.

11:00–11:20

Christiana Kelepeshi (MSc, Independent Researcher)

Beyond Numbers: An Analytical Investigation of a Ceramic Assemblage Dating from the mid. 12th to the 16th c. from the Site of Polis Chrysochous, Cyprus.

11:20–11:40

Coffee Break

Session 2-Aspects of Inter-Regional Trade and Connectivity

(Chair: Dimitris Karampas, University of Oxford)

11:40–12:00

Dr Daniela Galazzo (Postdoc Researcher, Université de la Sorbonne, Paris IV)

Lapis lazuli in Ancient Egypt: between trade and ideological values

12:00–12:20

Daniela Greger (PhD Candidate, University of Lausanne)

Throw-away Packaging or Bulk Trade? A Reflection on Interregional Perfume Trade in the Late Geometric and Early Archaic period.

12:20–12:40

María Teresa de Luque Morales (PhD Candidate, University of Córdoba), Eusebio Jesús Medina Luque (MA, University of Córdoba)

The importance of Baetic oil in the Roman world and its reflection in spatial analysis archaeology.

12:40–13:10

Posters Presentation

13:10–13:40

Lunch Break

Session 3–Social and Economic Patterns of Mobility (Chair: Dr Paul Wordsworth, University of Oxford)

13:40–14:00

Celso Simbine (MA Student, Eduardo Mondlane University)

Archaeology of Trade in the East African Coast: An Investigation on commercial approach of the Mozambique Island, CE 1100 – 1800.

14:00–14:20

Dr Robert T. Nyamushosho (Postdoc Researcher, University of Cape Town)

The antiquity of trade, and exchange in precolonial Mberengwa: Archaeological and ethnohistorical insights from the second millennium AD.

14:20–14:40

Will Wright (MSt Student, University of Oxford)

What can the Periplus Maris Erythraei tell us about trade in the Gulf and what are its limitations? To what degree are the conclusions it suggests supported by archaeological evidence?

14:40–15:00

Dr Shriya Gautam (Early Career Researcher, Speaking Archaeologically)

Temples as Arteries of Trade and Economic Interaction: A Case Study of the Gurjara-Pratihara Temples of North India.

15:00–15:20

Coffee Break

Keynote Speaker

15:20–16:20

Prof Andrew Wilson (University of Oxford)

Roman Bulk Trade in Low-value goods: Return Cargoes and Subsidised Trade by Land and Sea.

16:20–16:40

Wrapping Up

Interactions, Trade, and Mobility in Archaeology

GAO International Conference 2021

DAY 3, 9th MAY 2021: MARITIME NETWORKS

10:00–10:20 | Welcome Remarks

Session 1—Harbours as Means of Interaction

(Chair: Angela Falezza, University of Oxford)

- 10:20–10:40 | Jelena Čelebić (PhD Candidate, Koç University)
Roman Harbours on the Eastern Adriatic Coast.
- 10:40–11:00 | Ioannis Nakas (PhD Candidate, University of Birmingham)
From harbour regionalism to a harbour koine. Technology, architecture and function in harbour networks of Roman Mediterranean.
- 11:00–11:20 | Panagiotis Athanasopoulos (PhD Candidate, University of Ljubljana)
The harbour of Lechaion in Corinth, Greece: Submerged Timber Structures of the Late Roman and Early Byzantine Period.
- 11:20–11:40 | Coffee Break

Session 2—Recent Advancements in Maritime Archaeology

(Chair: Anna Dalgikitsi, University of Oxford)

- 11:40–12:00 | Dimitris Karampas (DPhil Candidate, University of Oxford) and Dr Theotokis Theodoulou (Ephorate of Underwater Antiquities—Department of Crete)
Crete and Maritime Archaeology: A Century of Discoveries.
- 12:00–12:20 | Panos Tzovaras (PhD Candidate, University of Southampton)
Cultural trafficking in Greece: new perspectives on the authenticity of the Aegean lead boat models.
- 12:20–12:40 | Michael Alejandro Delacruz (DPhil Candidate, University of Oxford)
Problematising Cult Transmission in the Ancient Saronic Gulf: Towards an Integrated Terrestrial and Maritime Network Model.

12:40–13:10 | Posters Presentation

13:10–13:40 | Lunch Break

Session 3—Maritime Trading Networks and Mobility (Chair: Dimitris Karampas, University of Oxford)

13:40–14:00 | Marie Meranda (PhD Candidate, University of South Florida)
Early Indigenous and European Interactions on the Colonial Frontier in Dominica, Lesser Antilles

14:00–14:20 | Cezar Mahumane (PhD Candidate, Eduardo Mondlane University)
(Re)interpreting the artefact collection of the Nossa Senhora da Consolação (1608) on light of the 17th century Global Maritime Trade

14:20–14:40 | Jose-Oscar Encuentra Bardina (PhD Candidate, University of Southampton)
The contribution of shipwreck evidence to our understanding of the maritime trade connections of Narbo Martius (1st c. BC to early 3rd. c. AD).

14:40–15:00 | Dr Alexandra Bivolaru (Postdoc Researcher, Aix Marseille University)
Constraints and potentialities the Danube Delta in Antiquity (7th c. BC – 7th c. AD): towards a socio-economical approach.

15:00–15:20 | Coffee Break

Keynote Speaker

15:20–16:20 | Dr Candace Rice (Brown University)
Networks, supply chains and mobility in Roman Mediterranean

16:20–16:40 | Closing Remarks

Interactions, Trade, and Mobility in Archaeology

GAO International Conference 2021

7th–9th MAY 2021: POSTERS PRESENTATION

Sofia Servoli, MA Student (Università la Sapienza di Roma)

Pottery Production and Economic Interactions in the Tiber Valley: Kilns and Tools from the Workshop of Piano di Comunità (Veii)

Savannah Bishop, PhD Candidate (Koç University)

Shedding Light and Spilling Oil: Ceramic Oil Lamps as Markers of Identity and Change in the Eastern Mediterranean

Sakura Sanada, PhD Candidate (Jagiellonian University)

Emulation? The introduction of painted pottery in Egypt.

Sabina Fiolna, DPhil Candidate (University of Oxford)

The socio-ecological system of south-western Asia Minor in the Roman period

Sara Mura, PhD Candidate (University of Amsterdam)

Staging social bonds with the dead: between design and emotion at Tell el Mazar

Andrew Earnshaw, MSc Student (Oxford University)

“How Soft Your Fields So Green”: Conceptualising the early Anglo-Saxon cemeteries and settlement at Mucking, Essex as a trade diaspora.

Guopeng Chen, MPhil Student (University of Oxford)

The Construction and Presentation of Knowledge of Human Sacrifice in Mesoamerica

Cristina Gonzalez Esteban, MA Student (University of Southampton)

Joining virtual methodologies for improving knowledge of Interaction within Archaeology.

Claire Heseltine, MSt Student (University of Oxford)

Takht-i Sangin: a Bactrian Time-share Temple?

Avery Warkentin, MSt Student (University of Oxford)

Globalisation Theory at Aī Khanoum's Temple with Indented Niches: An Architectural Reinterpretation.

María Teresa de Luque Morales, PhD Candidate (University of Córdoba)

The unprivileged free population groups: the case of the Fabii family.

