

Lunch Bunch

Welcome to Lunch Bunch!

We are a fun, casual networking gathering of primarily-but not exclusively — holistic practitioners in the Orange County area. We are open to any and all businesses with the simple intention of sharing our passion and business endeavors with other like-minded individuals to cross-promote and support each other. Anyone looking to connect with other holistic professionals as a colleague or client is our prime demographic. You'll have a great opportunity to meet and interact with a wide variety of folks in a single setting!

BOTI Studios: Home Office

We meet on the third Friday of each month at BOTI Studios, 607 S Harbor, Blvd in Anaheim. (It's on the other side of the I-5 from Disney.) We have a second event each month where we rotate our meetup date and location to explore OC and discover our members' business locations.

Event time:

Our events run 11-1:30. We start at 11am with folks signing in and casually networking. If you want to eat during this time, you are invited to bring your meal and/or a snack to share, or you can simply chat! At 11:30 we will stop mingling and begin with a short introduction then we go around the room and each person has TWO minutes to share their business message. Please honor the two minute timeline so that everyone has an equal amount of time to share. At the end, we have raffle prizes and some fun. We do our best to wrap up right at 1pm.

Cost to participate: $10.

What do I get for my $10? There's a lot of "behind-the-scenes" activity that goes in to the coordination and execution of our group. From time invested sending social media blasts to buying name tags and beyond (ie, this document didn't type itself up) this is simply a nominal fee to support the folks that spend a chunk of time pulling the event together each month. At check-in you will be asked for payment in cash, Venmo or Paypal. The $10 collection pool is shared in thirds by myself, my right hand gal, Tonya Fitzpatrick, who assists with marketing and sign in, and our hosts for the day.

How does this all work?

- When you sign in, pay your $10. and then grab a name badge and fill out a raffle ticket.
- Add your business card to our "box."
- Our raffle time is always fun-you can earn raffle tickets for amazing prizes from our members the following ways:
 - 1) Attend and pay the $10 participation fee! (one ticket)
 - 2) Offer up a raffle prize. (3 tickets!)
 - Raffle donors get an additional 1 minute to promote their business during the drawing.
 - 3) Give a testimonial for someone else you have done business with in the group (one testimonial given/received per attendee, please!) Please limit your testimonials to 30 seconds.
 - 4) Bring a friend (1 ticket)
 - 5) Host the event (5 tickets!)
 - 6) Participate in something fun we come up with on the spur of the moment!

Join our Facebook Group! You are welcome to advertise your upcoming events and connect with others from our group. Look for "Lunch Bunch Networking for Holistic Entrepreneurs" on Facebook.

But wait... there's more...

Lunch Bunch

Participate in our “Treasure Chest” Exchange!

Invariably, once we have gone around the room and heard everyone’s introductions, you are very excited to “have a session” or “try their products.” Sometimes as entrepreneurs we have less cashflow than resources, so what we have set up is a system where you can “deposit” a gift certificate for your service or a product and “in exchange” you will receive a “receipt” that allows you to shop in the chest for other certificates or products. Trade gift certificates for your business with others in our group! You can bring in a gift certificate for any amount for your goods/services and then “take out” one or a combination of identical value to experience the services from someone else in the group. See Sandy and her “Treasure Box” for available trades.

Lunch Bunch “On Location” – Would you like to host?

Our hosts provide the space, tables, paper goods/cups and seating and we bring pot luck of what we like to eat. In this crowd some are Vegan, some are Keto and everything in between-so please bring what YOU like and we’ll share. Hosts are asked to set up a small check in table at the entry with someone from their business available to join us in welcoming attendees. One of the perks of hosting Lunch Bunch is that we can do a “FB Live” promoting that business prior to the start of the gathering, as desired. This video can be used however the host likes to further promote and market their business.

We visit different locations to hit a variety of areas throughout the county on different days of the week to catch the folks that have “something every ____.” We decide upon the next month’s location and date at the end of the current event so is always somewhere new based on who has availability and desire to host. We do ask that potential hosts attend at least one of our regular gatherings before asking to host so they understand the dynamics of the group and the set up framework.

Get reminded for upcoming events. If we can read your email from the sign in sheet, we’ll add you to our contact listing of all of our members with an email blast with the next event’s details.
