Items you can get from final Fantasy XIV collections are still available as an update. You can get all 4 collectible edition extensions (at the best price), or in case you already have some, you can also upgrade the extension individually. The official website doesn't make it very easy to see what cosmetic items each includes, so we grouped them all down below, providing screenshots for each one in order to make your buying decision easier! In total, you can get 5 fasteners, 5 henchmen, 1 chocobo skin, 2 skins arms (Red Magician and Gunbreaker) 2 steering skins (which fit all classes). Shadowbringers Collector's Edition Elements of the Fringe (Mountain) Movement: The Terrestrial possessed the power of mind and body that is unparalleled in the First as a mountain, The Grani has no peers on earth or in heaven. It is said, however, that the noble creature will accept only the horseman who has pledged to restore the shadow of the earth, devoid of night. Wind-up Fran (Minion) Behavior: The Obedient Taking Page from The Scions of the Seventh Dawn, Bangaa fusilier Rinok secretly commissioned the creation of dozens of miniature Fran fetishes in an attempt to fill the coffers of the ever-underfunded resistance movement led by Lente's Tears. Revolver (Gunbreaker Arm Skin) Stormblood Collector's edition Elements of Syltra (Mountain) Movement: Airborne Legends say that once lived a good sea dragon who befriended a pirate, and that their friendship knew no boundaries. It's not that sea dragon; however, with a little time and care, who should say that a similar relationship cannot be tampered with? Sea dragons have nothing to do with real dragons. Wind-up Bartz (Minion) Behavior: The Independent Legend of Bartz and his gullible chocobo horse Boko is known for being broad and wide, their journeys inspiring entire generations to adventure. Although, the disagreement regarding the appropriate spelling of the lighthearted youth name has led to a lot of hurt butz. Chicken Knife (Red Mage Arm Skin) Heaven Collector's Edition Elements Flying Griffin (Mountain) Movement: Ground Fantastic Winged Beasts hails from the unscalable peaks of Abalattia's spine, griffins actually have a long history serving as mounts. Indeed, before the fall of the city-state, Ala Meaghan's army supported a regiment of griffin soldiers who would be the garry of the opposing forces. Wind-Up Cain (Mignon) Behavior: A Docile Tale of Cain-Dragon, who gave up his duty for honor- is well known among Ishgard children. To maximize the height on his jumps, the master of this watch machine lined the main control springs with an excessive aspect of wind crystals. Baron Helm (All Classes) Kingdom Revived Collector's Edition Elements Chocobo (mountain) Movement: The ground playfully described by some as big and responsible, in truth, when summoned, aroused, The voracious pumpkin will flap the nary feather if a garland of gysahl greens dangles in front of it, in which case not even the laws of nature can fat chocobo down. Coeurl (Mountain) Movement: The Terrestrial Native Jungle of the Middle East, coeurls have only recently been introduced to Eorzea, brought from distant lands such as Thavnair ul'dahn nobles who were thought to breed them as pets. Now, but a handful of skilled tamers living in the recluse on the pearl are said to be able to train them. Wind-up Moogles (Minion) Behavior: An obedient creation born of 90% love and 10% jealousy (or was it that 90% jealousy and 10% love?), this masterpiece of the watch was conceived after the black shrouds began to notice all the adventurers with their new shiny minions, and decided that they were not going to stay away. Baby Hippopotamus (Mignon) Behavior: The Independent Get in Sapphire Avenue exchange Ul'dah for a handful of coins and smiles, the pedigree of this beast is questionable at best. When displaying many hippo-like features- smooth purple hide, hungry eyes, and two polished horns-his squeal is no different from a boar to slaughter. Behemoth Barding (Full Chocobo Appearance Kit) Helmet of Light (All Classes) Pre-orders open February 6. © Square Enix At the Final Fantasy XIV Fan Festival takes place in Paris this weekend (February 2-3), a third expansion has been revealed, called Shadowbringers.
