ART GLASS LCIS SERIES

LOCIOO IS glass is a unique type of glass product that showcases a unique beauty and practicality through specific manufacturing processes.

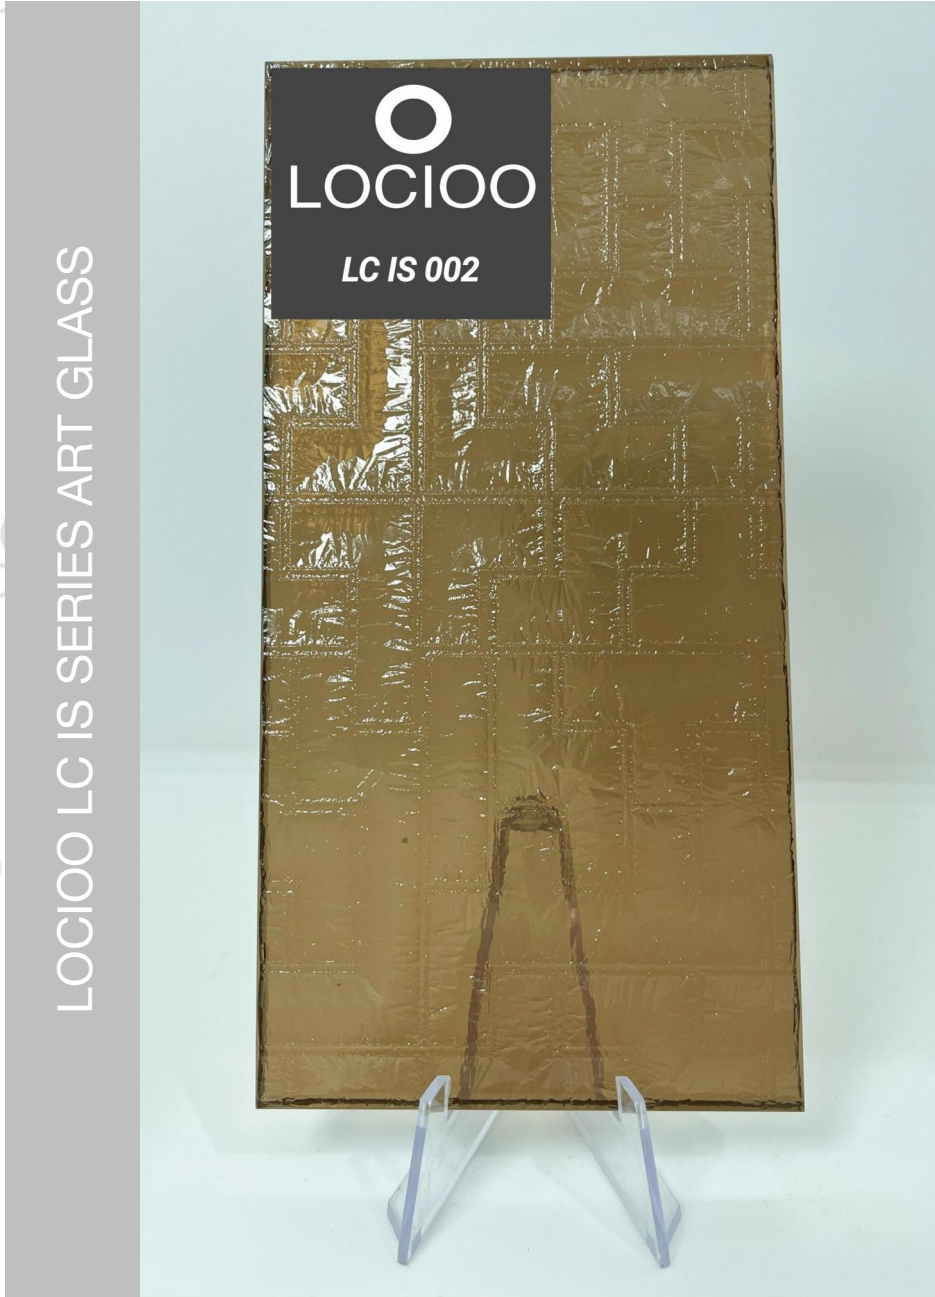

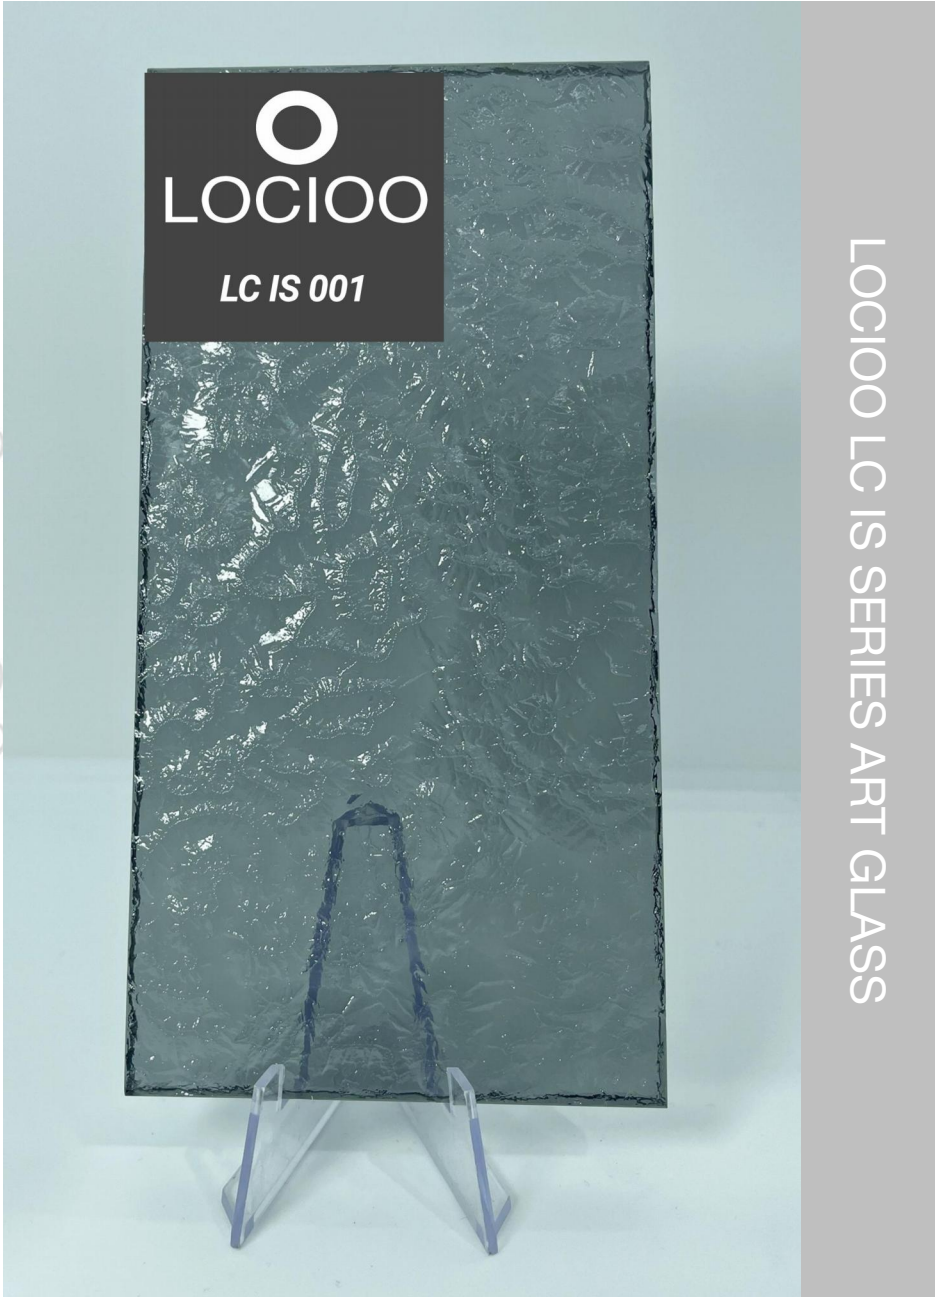

Production process: The production of ice sand glass usually involves high-temperature melting and rapid cooling processes, and may also include sandblasting, which involves mixing water with diamond sand and high-pressure spraying on the surface of the glass for polishing. This process creates a delicate frosted texture and unique texture on the glass surface.

Physical characteristics: Due to its special manufacturing process, ice sand glass may have lower transparency and a certain degree of brittleness. At the same time, its surface presents a texture of oil sand, with a slightly frosted touch and a refreshing feeling.

Usage: Ice sand glass is often used in decoration and artistic creation fields due to its unique texture and beauty, such as indoor partitions, screens, bathrooms, etc., adding a mysterious and dynamic touch to living spaces.

Application: Sliding door, swing door, screen, partition, background wall

Size: 3000 * 1500 8MM (other thicknesses required to be discussed separately)
