

POWER MARKET EXPERT FOR THE EUROPEAN MARKETS – for a global power trading company based in Scandinavia

Do you want the opportunity to become a partner in a fast-growing power trading company?

Do you have solid experience with power trading across the European markets?
Then you may be the Power Market Expert we are looking for to develop and maximize our growth strategy in the European power markets.

TEAM UP WITH THE BEST

Yggdrasil specializes in the short-term power markets where extreme volatility is the norm.
The markets are constantly evolving presenting new insights and growth opportunities.

We are one of the top performing participants in the field. Following a four-year track record of successful power trading in the U.S., Europe, and Japan, we are looking for a Power Market Expert to lead the continuous development in the European power markets.

The philosophy at Yggdrasil is to have a purely data-driven approach to trading.
All trading strategies are backtested and automated.

We are looking for a dedicated candidate with genuine enthusiasm for solving complex problems to join our collaborative and high-performing team.

We offer a unique position where you will drive Yggdrasil's growth in the European markets.

RESPONSIBILITIES AND TASKS

As Power Market Expert managing the European markets, you will make a significant impact in our organization.

You will develop and grow the business in Europe and directly contribute to Yggdrasil's financial performance. While adhering to and following market regulations and company risk limits and policies, we expect you to:

- Continuously develop and grow the business in Europe within short-term power trading.
- Perform individual research.
- Develop and execute trading strategies.
- Suggest improvements in trading and analytical activities to ensure that the business objectives are met.
- Take responsibility for optimizing our daily procedures.
- Keep colleagues informed of changes regarding market, procedures, infrastructure etc.
- Train less experienced colleagues.

QUALIFICATIONS

Your experience in the power trading industry is far more important than your educational background.

You show a depth of knowledge of the European power system, the ability to navigate successfully through constrained system conditions, and can identify and share profitable trading opportunities with your colleagues.

The nature of this position requires you to have a solid network and a profound understanding of the mechanisms in the European power markets.

PERSONAL SKILLS

We expect that you:

- Are driven by results and growth.
- Have stamina and the energy to go the extra mile.
- Are a team player, that can also work independently.
- Share our philosophy on trading: Data rules. Neither gut feeling nor ego beats the facts.
- Are reliable with a strong work ethic.

WE OFFER

- The opportunity to work with highly skilled colleagues with more than 90 years' experience in the global energy markets.
- Support and encouragement for you to further develop your skills and your career.
- To share with you our insights and knowledge about the U.S. and Japanese power markets.
- An informal work environment with a great atmosphere where we respect and trust each other.
Your opinion counts and everyone is being asked and heard.
- Great influence on your workday and tasks.
- A competitive and attractive salary package.
- The opportunity to join our partner program and become co-owner of Yggdrasil.

Our goal is for all our senior employees to be partners, no matter your role.

WHY JOIN YGGDRASIL

At Yggdrasil, we see the world as our playground. We dare to be different; we explore the impossible. Our focus is power trading, and we have a true data-driven approach to everything we do. We do not own assets or have customers to bill or handle.

IT is the backbone of our business, and the trading strategies state how we trade.
Data rules and the best P&L graph clears the table. We like to call that "algo before ego."

We have a true startup attitude with a flat organization. We benefit from strong values emanating from what we do, and how we work.

We like to think that this is not a job; this is an adventure.
By joining us, you get to be part of our exciting journey.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

If you have questions about the position or our company, please contact Søren Agersbæk on +45 2031 0398 and e-mail: saj@yco.dk or HR Partner Ann Sloth on +45 2013 8860 and e-mail: ann@asloth.dk.

Job start is as soon as possible. We will be screening candidates on an on-going basis.
Send your application today to job@yco.dk.

Learn more about Yggdrasil and meet your future colleagues.
Click here to visit Yggdrasil on LinkedIn.

