Her brother replied: Of course, bumps are what you climb on. This is a remarkable piece of philosophy. What are you doing with bumps on your way of life? Jews are written for Christians who are climbing the mountain and are tired of bumps. The writer tells them the key to walking on mountaintops, to set eyes on Jesus (Hebrews 12:1-2). Don't let life get you down. Don't let the rough road cause you to take a detour or relax or go back. Fix your eyes on Jesus and you will be able to climb on bumps. One day Charlie Brown complained because his team always lost their games. Lucy tried to console him by saying, Remember Charlie Brown, you learn more from your wins than you did from your victories. And Charlie Brown replied: This makes me the smartest man in the world! God puts balance in our lives, good and bad. The main thing is not to look at ourselves, our circumstance, our troubles, or bumps on the road, but to fix our eyes on Jesus and bumps will be what we climb to! -Steve Johnson Are there bumps in your path? You are extremely important to God—so much that Jesus died for you, and the Holy Ghost lives in you. You may seem small in your eyes, and that is good; for God resists the pride, but gives grace to the humble. However, don't let your humility become sin by making you believe that you can do nothing for God's sake. God can use you to help Him accomplish His will on this earth. - Warren W. Wiersbe, bumps are what you climb on: Encouragement on difficult days Many people try to avoid looking back. To make sure that there is an incorrect way to look back; it is wrong to look back on the sins and failures and defeats of the past. It can only make you fail even today. But it is good to look back to see where we have been and what the Lord has done for us and through us. Warren W. Wiersbe, bumps are what you climb on: Encouragement for difficult days at this stage of your experience, hold the truth that God loves you, and don't let anyone steal it away from you. Conditions can assail you; Satan can accuse you; your Christian friends may even abandon you, but God loves you just as He did when He gave Jesus to die for you on the cross. Your circumstances have changed and your feelings have changed, but God's love has not changed. When you feel God's love in your heart, your faith will become stronger and you will be able to thank. - Warren W. Wiersbe, Bumps is what you climb: Encouragement for difficult days A little boy led his sister up the mountain road and the road was not too easy. Why, this isn't a path at all, the little girl complained. It's all rocky and bumpy. And her brother replied. Of course, bumps are what you climb on. This is a remarkable piece of philosophy. - Warren W. Wiersbe, bumps are what you climb on: Encouragement on difficult days We can't depend on our own rule because we are weak and ignorant. And we can't depend too much on the rules of others because they are as weak and ignorant as we are. The only thing we can rely on is the reign and reign of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior. If He is on the throne of our lives, then we can face tomorrow with courage and conviction. - Warren W. Wiersbe, bumps are what you climb to: encouragement on difficult days Sometimes the path is level and easy, and birds sing and kind is wonderful. But sometimes the road is rocky and bumpy, and we hear no music and feel no helping hand. So what? Complain? Give up? No, it is time to remember god's promise: For He will give his angels responsibility for thee to keep you in all ways. God's invisible army is at your disposal, and God can see you through.
