

COMMUNITY JAR

Youth exchange about event making and community management

WHO WE ARE?

Sia

17-year old, dancer, writer at youth magazine, likes coffee

Secret

Kate

18-year old, cybersport player, dancer, active young person

Likes white socks

Julia

A youth worker in NGO Vita Tiim, mindfulness trainer

Has a dog named Falafelka

VITA TIIM

This is a nonformal education center, that creates international projects, volunteering

The mission of VitaTiim is to create a supportive and inspiring environment so all of us could be a better version of ourselves, discover our own role in the global world, and become flexible in an era of constant change and uncertainty.

Problem

Noninvolvement among youth in local community activities causes by unconfidence and a lack of empowerment

- lack of event-making skills
- prejudgement for non-formal education
- bad susceptibility for new ideas knowledge, due to wrong methods usage
- bad efficiency for some good quality activities

Mission

general involvement in local activities and community development, raise of empowerment.

OBJECTIVES

Get a skill and knowledge to encourage not active youth to participate in local community activities to raise empowerment in the society by experience exchange and development of skills needed to make good quality event

Development of youth initiative

Development of connections among young people in their countries and on an international level

Development of marketing, knowledge about methods of community influence

PARTICIPANT PROFILE

- 16-22 years old
- Active people, who are motivated to develop their skills in the field of event making and community management
- People, who did any kind of event and were able to share their experience (marketing, public speaking, handling workshops, communication, team leading)

