The race of people who possess the blood of an angel, Nephilim or Shadowhunters, is organized to patrol the world of shadows and prevent demons, as well as Downworlders, including sorcerers, fairies, werewolves and vampires, from attacks on the mundane. There is an uneasy peace treaty, known as the Agreements, between the governing body of Nephilim, known as Klav, and the Downworlders, not all of whom want peace or respect for the power of Klava. The following books are arranged in order of their respective dates. Hell Devices Home article: Hell devices Hell devices is the second set of books to be published. Set in 1878 in Victorian-era London, it revolves around Tessa Gray, a teenager who arrives in London after her brother's invitation but eventually thrusts into the world of shadows after learning that she is not mundane but rather a sorcerer option, sorcerers being half human and semi-demon. Tessa is unique even among sorcerers, as she is the only known case of having a Nephilim heritage. Nephilim, here textually often referred to as Shadowhunters, is blessed with the blood of an angel, making Tessa the fourth seraphic. Clockwork Angel (August 31, 2010) Clockwork Prince (December 6, 2011) Clockwork Princess (March 19, 2013) Last Hours Home Article: The Last Hours of the Last Hours of the Fifth Set of Books to be published. A sequel to the Hell devices series, it is set in 1903 in London and Paris and revolves around Tessa's children, James and Lucy, as well as their family friend, Cordelia Carsters, as they move through London enclave. The Gold Chain (March 3, 2020) Iron Chain (March 2, 2021) Chain of Thorns (March 2022) Main article Mortal Instruments: The Mortal Instruments The Mortal Instruments is the first set of books to be published. The series is mainly set in the year 2007 and revolves around Shadowhunter Clary Fairchild. She and her friends face two wars: the first against Valentin Morgenstern, and the second against his son Jonathan Morgenstern. City of Bones (March 27, 2007) City of Ashes (March 25, 2008) City of Glass (March 23, 2009) City of Fallen Angels (April 5, 2011) City of Lost Souls (May 8, 2012) City of Heavenly Fire (May 27, 2014) Senior Curses of the High Curses is the fourth set of books to be published. The trilogy tells the story of the adventures of Magnus Bain and Alec Lightwood together and explores their relationship. Each book is set at different points in the franchise timeline: the first is set during The Mortal Instruments events; The second is set between the events of the Death Tools and the Dark Tricks; and the latter will be set after Dark Tricks. The books were written by Cassandra Claire and Wesley Chu. Red Scrolls magic (April 9, 2019) The Lost Book of White (September 1, 2020) Black Volume dead (TBA) Dark Tricks Home article: Dark Tricks Dark Tricks is the third set of books to be published. The sequel to mortal Instruments, which takes place in 2012, five years after the events of the final book of this series, the City of Heavenly Fire. She revolves around Shadowhunter Emma Carsters, first introduced in the city of Heavenly Fire, as she searches for an answer to her parents' mysterious death. Lady Midnight (March 8, 2016) Lord of the Shadows (May 23, 2017) The queen of Air and Darkness (December 4, 2018) Evil Forces evil forces will be the sixth and final set of books to be published and will mark the end of the Chronicle of the ShadowHunter. The film was originally due to be released on August 23, 2013, but was pushed back two days earlier, on August 21, 2013. The film premiered on August 12, 2013 at the Cinerama Dome in Hollywood. Production for the film adaptation of the second book, City of Ashes, was supposed to start in September 2013, but was postponed until 2014, and eventually cancelled, after the first film failed to recoup its budget. Main TV article: Shadowhunters October 12, 2014 in Mipcom, Constantine confirmed that The Mortal Instruments will return as a television series with Ed Detter as a showrunner. Head Konstantin Moscovici told The Hollywood Reporter: It actually makes sense to make novels as a TV series. There was so much of the book that we had to leave out the film Mortal Instruments. In the series we will be able to go deeper and explore this world in more detail and detail. Producers hope to adapt the entire book series if the television adaptation proves successful. In February 2015, book series author Cassandra Clare announced via Twitter that the series would be called Shadowhunters, not The Mortal Instruments. In March 2015, ABC Family picked up Shadowhunters right into the series, premiering on January 12, 2016. The series was renewed for a second season in March 2016, consisting of 20 episodes, which premiered on January 2, 2017. In April 2017, it was announced that the series had been renewed for a third season of 20 episodes. The first half of the ten episodes premiered on March 20, 2018. On June 4, 2018, Freeform canceled the series after three seasons, but ordered two additional episodes to properly complete the series' story; The second half of the third season premiered on February 25, 2019.
