This article is about the island. For cities with the same name For other uses, see Mechagon (disambiguation). Mechagon Island[1][2] (shown as only mechagon in Venezuela) is an island northwest of Cooliras. Added in patch 8.2.0, it has one zone (slightly bigger than Timeless Island)[3] and Mythic only, operation: Megadungeon 8 boss, in addition to robodrome stage. This is an ancient lost city of gnomes, the beginning of an adventure is in garbage, garbage, where heroes are swarmed by dead robots, but with potential allies nearby. Meknomes were hunted down. King Mecagon has a vision to restore meat to everyone as a more pure robot piece, and it is up to you to put a stop to him. Before King Mecagon claimed this island, The history of the forgotten people is buried under the earth. [1] The evidence of the two civilizations appeared with the origin of urikul[7] and the other appeared to be tortollans.[1] Found a very old night ring, elven raises more questions about who lives here. His plan was sadly discovered when the elderly Adventurer, Kervo Cogpipe, Adventurer, Adventurer, Adventurer, Adventurer, Adventurer, One-handed finds his way to the legendary lost island and tells the king of his betrayal. Inside, they managed to activate the message by King Mechagon, which unfortunately was followed by the activation of a scanning device that killed anyone who did not. It stopped only when Gilla Crossweer was scanned [16] when allied forces left the safe deposit box, a group led by the Gazlows, learned from the grave as well and had just arrived as they left. The crowd invaded the grave and killed all except one gnome, just as the allies did, the crowd activated the message and suffered the same fate until The Gazlows had the idea of using the catch gnome to stop the sequence [18] when they arrived on the island. He explained that Rusbalt was recently robbed and he needed help launching an attack to rescue his supporters. [24] The prince attacked the garbage depot to free the captured allies and Pascal-K1N6[22] [23] [24] [11] The prince decided to send a message to his father by destroying the Hong Kong-8 air force. He informed both forces that there was much to do before stepping into the next step. When the preparations were completed, allied forces launched operations: Mechagon, which led to the end of the dictatorship of King Mecagon. After his victory, he activated mechoriginator and destroyed the whole life on Azeroth, in the aftermath of Cristi, Izira's legs were destroyed, so Cristi, with the help of an adventurer, was able to create a new set of legs for her. After returning to her feet, Izira decided to go after bondo big blocks, revenge and kill him[30] in her. She finds her old Prince Erasmin transformed into nothing more than a rusty bot. It has a small main quest line for both the crowd and the alliance and connects to the events of the patch. On the island, players will be given various activities to help Prince Erazmin of Mechagon, but also have the opportunity to try only legendary new dungeons, operations: Mecagon and the arena The awards include a number of achievements, mounts, and multiple items from Garbage Tinkering. Upon completion of the initial quest for either party, the player will be able to freely explore and perform any of the following activities: Additional Quest — there are two preliminary quest lines to Mecagon Island for both Horde and its allies. The quest lines are introduced to be different from each other, but eventually meet on the island. There are two world quests to appear and various NPCs to come to the island to offer various daily quests. Mechagon is a 5-person dungeon that launches along with the Eternal Palace of Azshara after the release of Patch 8.2. There will be 2 active construction machinery in the specified time. Energy cells are only used in Tinkering waste, but they are relatively rare compared to empty energy cells. Fortunately, empty power cells can be recharged using a charging station to become an energy cell. For more information, see our charging station section. 4.Quests in Mecagon have a total of 11 other locations on the island that you can discover and there will be a daily quest line or quest for you to complete. They are as follows (with the quest lines listed) as you can see not all of these places are line quests, but they almost all have daily quests. Now we will look at the rest of the non-daily quests before moving on to the daily quests in the next section. 4.1 Charging station of the yard of the bondoquest above leads to unlocking the charging station. At the charging station, you can recharge your empty energy cells to keep the cells energized. 4.2. Some rare elite quests are directly linked to the rare elite and the rest in the piston succeeds. In fangs (a small island between Mechagon and western spray) There is a small quest line that leads to the killing of deep-water muzzle, which is necessary for the rest in the piston. In order to start the quest line, you will need to talk to Daniel Anglers, which is located on the west coast of Mecagon. These projects are repeated again throughout the day for other players to do so, but you can only do so once each day. The map above marks possible birth locations for each type of project, which you can see in some rare elites section rare spawn only when the project is set up, so you need to pay attention to that if you are hunting a particular elite. To find an existing project, one day you will need to talk to Warren Gearheart in Rustbolt, then head to the relevant location to start the project or help make the team a start. After starting the project, you can contribute by donating the necessary materials (spare parts and energy cells in the image above). After starting the project, the mobs will start laying eggs and trying to destroy it. Your role is to maintain participation and protect the project. To help you with construction, there are 2 items from Tinkering Garbage that can be helpful: emergency repair kits and emergency powerpack. There are two successes linked to the construction project: Junkyard Machinist. The Financier's head of Mechagon wants you to participate in 1,000 projects (you can complete 2 projects per day, but you can contribute as much as you want). That's rare and their place has 37 rare Elites in Mechagon, 36 counting against the rest in success pistons, which are part of the successive meta-success (see success details for more details) and Scrapclaw, which is not part of the success for some reason. 1.
