Metal Gear in Concert is a live event held in Osaka on July 30, 2017 and in Tokyo on August 2, 2017. As stated in the title, it was a live music concert that dealt with various music from the Metal Gear series, and was probably created for the 30th anniversary of the series. On June 30, 11 songs were presented, which were to be released at the event. During this time, goods such as bandanas, T-shirts and dog tags were sold. There were also plans for similar concerts for North America and Europe, although release dates have not been released until now. The third show took place on July 7, 2018. One of the merchandising sold during this time was a special flashlight, which was with a placard, which was obtained from the weapons menu from Metal Gear Solid: Peace Walker, in particular the PSP version. Other merchandising sold at the same event included three FOXHOUND T-shirts emblazoned on them, a bag with the FOXHOUND logo and a green patterned bandana with the FOXHOUND logo in the center. The concept art from Ponx2 was also created with Snake in a conductor's outfit. Content show in the list of songs Gallery Metal Gear in Concert merchandise.2018.
