The band trained dance and singing for two years before releasing a recording in Japan Music. [1] The members were all in their early teens when the band was formed. [2] Shortly thereafter, lead singer Crippen separated from the group, leaving behind the original three members. The group then introduced two other members, singers EJ and Mike. In March 2020, Jacob Latimore mentioned Mindless Behavior, OMG Girlz, Diggy Simmons and Jawan Harris on Instagram and told Yo, It's Time. She appeared on The Today Show in November 2010. [1] Their debut album #1 Girl was released on September 20, 2011. [3] It debuted on the US Billboard 200 album chart at number seven. [4] Mindless Behavior toured with the Backstreet Boys, Justin Bieber, Jason Derülo and was the prelude to Janet Jackson's 2011 tour. [5] Mindless Behavior also headlined the first BET Closer to My Dreams tour alongside Diggy Simmons, Lil Twist, Tyga, Trevante and Jawan Harris. In 2011, Mindless Behavior headlined the SCREAM Tour with Diggy Simmons with OMG Girlz, Jacob Latimore and Hamilton Park. They were predicted to be Future Stars of This Must Be Pop. [7] In July 2012, they started their own 25-city tour (#1 Girl Tour) with the opening acts Jacob Latimore, Lil Twist and the rising star Kayla Brianna. In March 2013, the band released their second studio album, All Around the World, and their feature film, Mindless Behavior: All Around the World. Mindless Behavior announced the All Around The World Tour in July 2013. On June 17, 2016, they released the music video for their third single #OverNightBag. They announced that they would be touring their third album No Parents Allowed Tour, but were cancelled soon after for inexplicable reasons and are preparing for the release of an independent film called Misguided Behavior. In February 2017, rumors spread that the group had disbanded after Princeton announced it after it issued a request for comment claiming that the group did not have the rights to their music and the rights to the decided that they wanted to do a solo career. Bandmembers Past members Prodigy (Craig Crippen, Jr.) – Lead singer (2008-2013; 2014-2015) Princeton (Jacob Perez) – background singer, speaker (2008-2017) Ray Ray Ray (Rayan Lopez) – background singer, sub-rapper, main rapper (2008-2015) Roc Royal (Chresanto August) – Background singer, Main Rapper (2008–2014) EJ (Elijah Johnson) – Lead Singer (2014-2017) Mike (Michael Martin) – Background Singer, Sub-Lead Singer (2015–2017) Timeline Member Adjustments The group has undergone many adjustments since its inception in 2008, which also included the original members Prodigy, Princeton, Ray Ray and Roc Royal. In November 2013, it was announced that lead singer Prodigy was leaving the group to pursue a solo career that he proved untrue. He left the camp for bullying and abuse. [9] Princeton, Ray Ray and Roc Royal left a trio. In April 2014, the group announced that EJ Prodigy would replace the new lead singer of the group. [10] In December 2014, Roc Royal was released from the group for his ill behaviour. These included beating a drug addict over money, a baby at an early age and allegations that he stole a producer's car. [11] This in turn prompted Prodigy to return to the group to replace Roc Royal, who served a two-year prison sentence for battery and robbery. [13] [13] In June 2015, Prodigy left the group again, and it turned out that Prodigy was only a placeholder in the group to keep a quartet. He left the group when Mike (who actually replaced Roc Royal) joined the group. [Quote Required] In September 2015, Ray Ray decided to leave the group to pursue a solo career. Thus EJ, Mike and Princeton (the only original member of the group left) remained as a trio until the dissolution of the group in February 2017. Princeton, Ray Ray and Roc Royal have just announced the new fourth member, EJ. EJ is a 16-year-old musician from Detroit. Most recently, he played as Simba in a touring production of The Lion King and has been friends with the group for quite some time. I live my dream and to be a part of this project was amazing and a real blessing! I plan to do great things with these guys! I am so grateful for the opportunity. -EJ Look for new music from the foursome as they prepare for the release of their upcoming third studio album. JJ also on K97.5: K97.5:
