The whole armor of god prayer by charles stanley

Finally, be strong in the Lord and in his mighty power, put on the full armor of God so that you can take your position against the diabolical schemes. Ephesians 6:10-11 NIV I think I mentioned earlier that our pastor takes the congregation through the careful and expository teachings of the book of Ephesians. Our congregation has been studying Ephesians verses in verse since May. Today will be our conclusion as Pastor David finishes this series with the armor of God. Our pastor has spent the last few services digging through the full armor and teaching us how to be prepared for enemy attacks, even if they come from within the church (or from other Christians). So to date I would like to share the prayer that was given to us in our newsletter last week. It was written by Charles F. Stanley in his book When the Enemy Strikes. This prayer spoke to me a lot last week when I was faced with an unreasonable battle of the enemy. I hope you will find this blessing and a great reminder to be ready at all times and pray on God's armor every day. God, that's what I'm doing right now to prepare myself for the day ahead. I'll stick a belt of truth. I ask you to make it clear to me what I must accept in my life and that I must reject. Help me clearly see the motives of others as they deal with me and communicate with me. Let me enter into your truth, make decisions and choices according to your plans and goals for my life. I am a badge of righteousness. Protect your emotions today. Protect my heart. Help me take in my life just that is clean and nothing that is poison or polluting. Help me live honestly and have a reputation based on fulfilling, talking, believing, thinking and feeling the right things. Help me live in the right relationship with you every moment of this coming day. I'll stick my spiritual boots on. Help me stand up and walk in your world and move forward in a way that bring your peace and love to others. Help me have the full confidence and confidence that come from knowing that I am filled with peace that only you can give to those who are your children. Help me become a peacemaker. Show me where to walk and how to walk, how you will walk. I'm picking up a shield of faith. Help me trust you to protect me, keep me safe, and keep me safe every hour of the day. I'm sticking a rescue helmet. Protect my mind today. Bring to my memory everything you have done for me as my Savior. Let me live in the hope and confidence that you are saving me and saving me from evil. I pick up my sword of the Spirit, the Word of God. Bring to my memory today the Bible verses I have read and memorized and help me apply them to the situations and circumstances I will encounter. Let me use your word to Your light is in the darkness of this world and defeat the devil when he comes to seduce me. Father, I want to be fully clothed with the personality of Jesus Christ today. I'm in Christ. It's in me. Help me fully understand and accept that He is my Truth, my Righteousness, my world, my Savior, the source of my faith, and the ever-present Lord of my life. I want to bring glory to your name today. I ask for all this in the name of Jesus. Amen. Did you like the post? Share... Don't get bullied my journey to forgiveness... Morning Prayer to put on the armor of God Ephesians 6:10-18 Charles Stanley - Glorious Journey - Page 266 Armor of God - Central Truths of Scripture that constitute the spiritual defense of the believer. Good morning, God. Thank you for reassured me of today's victory. By faith I choose to follow your battle plan and prepare myself according to your instructions. To prepare for the battle ahead, I put on the belt of truth by faith. Refresh my mind to what's true. Fill me with the truth. Expose in my heart the lies that I am tempted to believe. The truth is that you are a sovereign God who loves me and cares for me. The truth about me is that I'm your child, bought and paid for. Nothing can separate me from your love. By faith, I put on a badge of righteousness. Today I intend to do what is right. I pray that I will be known as someone who does what is right, no matter what it costs me. Let Christ's righteousness shine through me today, I believed in the gospel sandals. I'm available to you. Use me in other people's lives. I pray that in my behavior and speech I will definitely represent you. Make me a soothing presence wherever I go. Now I take up the shield of faith. My faith is only in you and you. There's nothing I can do besides you. I can do anything in you. Everything that comes against me must pass through You, for I am in You. As you walked without sin on this earth, to live without sin through me today. By faith, I declare victory over then I list some of the temptations that I know I will face that day. When I am faced with these temptations, remind me that victory is about victory. I believed I was wearing a rescue helmet. Thank you for saving me. Thank you for forgive me. Thank you for sending the Holy Spirit to live inside me. Holy Spirit, I'm passing on mys to you today. I'm giving my thoughts to you. I choose to take every thought captive to Christ's obedience. Finally, I take the sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God. Then I declare a few concrete promises from Scripture. So, Lord, I am walking, rejoicing that You have chosen me to represent you in this lost world. Let others see Jesus in me. Let Satan and his masters shudder when Your Power manifests itself through me. In the name of Jesus, I pray, Molly Dillon/Keiser Campus PrincipalThe concept of scripture is a living and active part of experiencing God in our daily lives captivated me recently. It all started with a quick prayer to embrace and equip me for the famous and inevitable unknown battles I will face throughout my day. In an immediate response, the Holy Spirit whispered, You have not put on armor. Without hesitation, I got some old, torn papers where every space on the margins and on the back was completely filled with notes, scriptures, and quotations. It was my well-worn copy of Charles Stanley, The Whole Armor of God Prayer based on ephesus 6:10-18. During a significant season of spiritual growth, this phenomenal daily prayer taught me to define areas of weakness and means by which I can change my ineffective, defensive position into a confident and pious offensive perspective. It weaves old and new scriptures and promises that inspire believers to participate in God's combat plan by intensifying the power that is available every moment of every day. It also seeks to guide us fearlessly towards our goal of protecting, caring, and serving others. As I shared my new determination to go in every day fiercely armored, I discover that 2nd graders are studying the same scripture passage (coincidence, I think not). They worked to ensure these verses firmly in their hearts, discussing the power and purpose each piece of armor possessed. They grew up in their understanding of the battle they face, the tactics of the enemy and God's security. They created life-size, and very interesting paper versions of themselves as armor; visual reminders of God's invisible, constant protection. At the celebration of Grandparents' Day and special friends, second-graders proclaimed and preached ephesus 6:10-18 boldly and with great faith. At this point I believe that every guest in the room has experienced the Word of God come to life in the hearts of these mighty warriors! It was such an irresistible blessing to heartily accept that these grandparents do have the most amazing grandchildren, and to share how our mission of discipleship brings up a generation that is strong in the Lord and his mighty power of Ef. 6:10. - Molly Dillon/Keiser Campus Chief All Armour God Prayer Charles Stanley Want to Start Your Day Right? Say this simple prayer to Charles Stanley every morning... Thank you for assured me of victory today if I will, but follow your battle plan. So by faith, I claim over _____ (a list of some things you know you'll come across today). To prepare for the battle ahead, I put on the belt of truth by faith. The truth about you is The Lord that you are a sovereign God who knows all about and my strengths and my weaknesses. God, you know my tipping point and you promised not to let me be tempted beyond what I can bear. The truth about me is the Lord, is that I am a new being in Christ and have been liberated from the power of sin. I am not myself with the Holy Spirit, who will guide me and warn me when danger is near. I am your child, and nothing can separate me from your love. The truth is that you have a goal for me that day- someone to encourage, someone to share with, someone to love. Next Lord, I want to wear a badge of righteousness. Because of this, I protect my heart and my emotions. I'm not going to let my heart get used to anything unclean. I won't be allowed to let my emotions rule in my decisions. I put them on what is right and good and simple. I will live today what is true, not what I feel. God, I'm wearing the gospel sandals of peace this morning. I'm available to you, Lord. Send me where you'll be. Tell me to those who need support or physical help. Use me to solve conflicts wherever they arise. Make me a soothing presence under any circumstances in which you place me. I won't rush or rush because my schedule is in your hands. I will leave no sign of tension or fear. I will leave traces of peace and stability wherever I go. Now I'm taking on the Veil of Faith, Lord. My faith is only in you and you. There's nothing I can do besides you. I can do anything with you. No temptation that comes my way can penetrate into your protecting hand. I won't be afraid because you're going with me all day long. When I am tempted, I will claim my victory out loud in advance, because you have promised victory even now, because I know there are fiery darts headed my way, even when I pray. God, you already know who they are, and you've already provided a way to escape. God, I believe I'm going to stick a helmet on salvation. You know how Satan bombards my mind day and night with evil thoughts, doubts, and fear. I'm wearing this helmet that will protect my mind. I can feel the consequences of his attacks, but nothing can get into that helmet. I choose to stop all the impure and negative thoughts at the door of my mind. With a helmet of salvation, these thoughts will get no further. I choose to take every thought. I will focus only on what is good, right and pleasant to you. Finally, I take the sword of the Spirit, which is your Word. Thank you for the precious gift of your Word. It is strong, strong and capable of defeating even the strongest of Satan's onslaughts. Your Word says I don't have to obey his lust. Your Word says that whoever is in me is more than the one who is in the world. Thus, by faith, I take the strong and powerful sword of the Spirit, which is capable of me during the attack, comfort me during the time teach me during meditation, and prevail against the power of the enemy on behalf of other people who need the truth to free them. So, Lord, I am walking, rejoicing that You have chosen me to represent you in this lost and dying world. May others see Jesus in me, and let Satan and his masters shudder when your power manifests itself in me. In the name of Jesus, I pray. . . . Amen.
