Sara Oblak Speicher, MBA is mom, wife, advocate, and an international elite basketball player turned master life coach, certified mindset expert, and transformation specialist.

Empowering unconventional women leaders who want to go from unrelatable to unstoppable, reclaim their power, the command of their time, the audacity of their dreams, is her life's work.

Slovenia-native now a New Yorker, Sara draws from 38 years of life experience, ancestral wisdom, and keen intuition to simplify complexities. And an eclectic portfolio of successfully served global clients benefited from her practical approach to blending lifestyle architecture, mental brilliance, and strategic genius with healing.

If losing her job when she found out she was pregnant kickstarted her journey of running home-based businesses (while traveling the world with her little ones), it was healing from depression and severe burnout, overcoming autoimmune disorders, and reviving her marriage that initiated her into Mysticism.

She gets vulnerable, goes deep, and keeps it real in writing (she holds a journalism degree), and speaking (as the Make Your Life Your Legacy podcast host).

Sara is a proud homemaker in love affair with the mountains and the sea, and is living her mission and walking her talk (barefeet or in heels despite being 185cm tall).

Currently, she resides in the Lower Hudson Valley with her husband, their two young daughters, and their three furry rescues. And already plotting her next move...
