Why the huge difference on Xbox One? Due to an unforeseen error with the Microsoft update delivery process, this download requires Xbox users to download files they already have, but it does NOT affect the overall installation size, Infinity Ward explained. We work closely with Microsoft to ensure that future updates are smaller in size. After the update, Xbox One players will see a 99.5GB installation footprint for Warzone only, and up to 183 GB for the entire game. Call of Duty: Modern Warfare and Warzone have a history of big downloads, and Infinity Ward has come under fire for the game's installation size, which is over 200 GB on PC and near it on the console. What makes yesterday's update even worse is that it comes hot on the heels of the 36GB Season 5 update — and especially Xbox One owners are understandably upset. UNFORESEEN ERRORS? Really? said sethouttanowhere on the Modern Warfare subreddit. You make me re-download 65gb just a week after downloading them and all you have to say to me is 'unforeseen bug'? Well thanks Activision, thanks Microsoft. Also, some people do not understand that not everyone in the world has a top notch connection. Far from it. Even if you live in developed countries, and even if you are financially stable. I live in Italy, in a small town in the countryside, and I would be more than happy to pay for a quick connection, but it is simply available yet in this place and so I'm stuck a connection that gives me as 1mbps in download AT BEST, often even less. 66GB for me means I won't play the game for at least a day and a half. I guess I'm not going to play it for another two weeks. This shit makes me so angry. Social media hasn't been pretty for Infinity Ward either. Is this some kind of joke? I almost have to download the entire multiplayer game again????? pic.twitter.com/lnrlUvUtce: Hasan Akhtar (@xvigiR6) 15. However, some players have criticized the timing of the patch, which was released late on Friday night/early Saturday morning. It's fucking brutal for all the Xbox players who try to play first thing in the morning and wake up to a 66GB update, said WILLx7HEx7HRILL on the Warzone sub. Warzone unlocked for everyone else a few hours later at 12 PM PT / 15:00 ET / 19:00 GMT. Warzone is Infinity Ward's take on battle royale. Here, players will see the dense and sprawling world of Verdun populated with up to 150 combatants at once. The map has a number of localities, with tons of equipment and vehicles strewn all over. Warzone contains two game types, and all progress earned in battle royale mode will transfer to full Modern Warfare multiplayer experience. From what we've been playing so far, it has some interesting ideas, especially in terms of how the respawn system works and how it keeps things personal despite the high player count.
