

Hannah has been dancing since the age of three where she originally started training in ballet and tap. She then auditioned for the B.Funk competition team when she was seven years old and began training in Jazz, Hip Hop, Lyrical, Contemporary, and Musical Theatre. Hannah danced for B.Funk under Tim Roberts, Desiree Koontz-Nachtrieb, Becky Funk, and many other B.Funk Faculty until she was 13 when went to train under Wyndee McGovern, Jenn Shead, and many others at Spotlight Studio of Dance. Hannah also was a member of the Archbishop Spalding High School Dance Team where they were named 13th in the nation at Universal Dance Association Nationals in Orlando, Florida, and she later became a leader and captain her junior and senior year. Hannah taught a creative movement class at Thrive Dance and Gymnastics while in high school. Hannah attended Penn State University where she was a member of the Penn State Lionettes Dance team. At 18, she auditioned for Universal Dance Association staff and has been teaching and coaching high school and college dance teams across the United States for the last four years. She is further continuing to train under Wyndee McGovern in hopes to become certified to teach McGovern Method at various studios and conventions. Hannah is currently pursuing her bachelor's degree in Kinesiology at the University of Maryland and hopes to go to nursing school in the fall of 2022. She is very excited for a great year and can't wait to get back into the studio in person!
