Feel free to contact us if you have any questions. FAQQ: What is an APK file? A: An Android Package Kit (APK for short) is the package file format used by the Android operating system to distribute and install mobile applications. Just as Windows (PC) systems use a .exe to install software, Android does the same. Q: Why CloudApks.com can guarantee APK 100% safe? A: Whenever someone wants to download an APK file from CloudApks.com, we will check the corresponding APK file on Google Play and allow the user to download it directly (of course, we will store it on our server). If the APK file doesn't exist on Google Play, we'll search our cache. Q: If I install an APK CloudApks.com, will I be able to update the app from the Play Store? A: Yes, absolutely. The Play Store installs APKs that download from Google servers, and sideloading from a site like CloudApks.com goes through a very similar process, except you're the one who performs the download and start the installation (sideloading). Once the Play Store detects a version of the app that's newer than the one you've skipped, it'll start an update. Q: What are Android app permissions? A: Apps require access to some systems on your device. When you install an application, you are notified of all permissions required to run that application.
