Gladly Bowie, MD Verified Reviewer Original Review: May 23, May, acquired the Black and Decker Pushing Iron (for Clothing) Model CR15X 120V-60Hz, just last month on target. This iron is not safe because the retractable cord coil button is on top of the handle (not in a safe place). When I iron my clothes, I accidentally touch the button and the cord automatically removes and scares me, it can also cause me to get burned by the hot iron when I panic. I want to return this iron and buy better, but unfortunately the goal is not giving refunds now, because of the pandemic coronavirus, and I can not find my receipt. Just saying.... Anonymous Verified Reviewer Original Review: May 8, 2020 I had no idea that I had so much debris on my carpet after running this vacuum cleaner over my stairs once. It's after using my old vacuum that I have since discarded. Less sneezing, and my carpet looks like a rug again. :)Gamel Richmond, IN Verified Reviewer Original review: April 27, 2020Very is easy to use, through the bare floor and carpet. I like that it has an arm vacuum that comes from the front, very comfortable. The vacuum has a good good suction with roller and brush. The hand vacuum also has a very good suction. It's very easy to clean. The lid comes from a manual vacuum where it can be cleaned. The filter is washed. Just rinse and let it dry. It's also wireless. Don't have to worry about tripping over the cord or plugging it into the socket when cleaning. Just to charge it. I would like to buy this again. The easiest vacuum I've ever bought. DL Raleigh, North Carolina Verified Reviewer Original Review: January 7, 2020Bought mine until Christmas 2019. Last week, in the first week of January 2020, the thing caught fire, smoke, flames and all. I was air frying fish sticks and after all directions. Under the headline: AIR FRY. 1 Place the food on the Air Fry mesh tray. 2 Open the oven door and insert the tray over the slide rack. Three minutes later, the flames came out of the top of the door. Under the headline: CARE AND CLEANING. 5 Any food that comes into contact with the elements will burn itself. They meant it literally. That paragraph should be recalled. Mine was on the counter under the cupboards. These wooden cabinets may have caught fire.Dorothy Williamstown, N.J. Verified Reviewer Original Review: August 6, 2019 Customer Service Call, and told them that there was a problem, the product was not working. They were told to look at the plug prong and read the numbers on the prong. They were then told to cut off the fork and take a picture of the prong with the numbers showing and email the picture to them for replacement. A letter with a photo was sent within an hour of the conversation. After a week of hearing no word, called them they said they had received a letter with the image, but the picture too big, they wanted me to resend it in a lesser form of jpg. After deciding I couldn't down the size of the painting, I called them their This time I was told to send the picture in the mail or send a fork, along with a check for $7.50 to cover the cost of delivery replacement Nothing but a bypass, the product was a piece of garbage and the so-called customer service and replacement policy is nothing short of a scam. I think they make it so hard with all the aggravation, they hope you give up. Let's face it. They come in handy in many ways I know. Stefan from Lowbanks, ON Verified Reviewer Original Review: July 6, 2019 We bought the mixer Black and Decker. Used it twice and it was finished, and because it was out of warranty they just said, well, it's happening. Just a bunch of trash, not the first black and Decker product we have that failed either. I will never buy any Black and Decker product ever again. Doug from Mississauga, ON Verified Reviewer Original review: June 19, 2019I broke the build leg, but it's not a replaceable part. So I'm not very happy as I have to glue the grill leg. I don't want to spend $50 on a new grill. I am very happy to use the grill. It is heated evenly. Vickie from Circleville, OH Verified Reviewer Verified Buyer Original Review: March 31, 2019Waste $50! Tried to make a simple cocktail. He will fight for a split second then stall. I had to remove the lid and stir at least seven times. The smoothie button is useless. Don't buy this worthless car! Devakumar Dubai, Other Verified Reviewer Original Review: March 30, 2019I brought the Black and Decker blender with the chopper and grinder BX3600, and I learned that this is one of the worst experiences I have had. Each time you use it, the lid is automatically removed from the jar. So I believe that there is a problem and this is not a successful model of this brand, henceforth will not recommend my friend, colleague and others. Thank you. Cheryl Brooksville, FL Verified Reviewer Original Review: February 9, 2020I purchased a toaster oven about 3 years ago. The first one had an unconvincing Joint. I called the BSB and complained. After a bunch of absurd questions (i.e. how much and when it is used), they sent me a replacement. Replacement doesn't last long. The unit was low sound whistling when he first started. The timer stopped working before the food was done. The toast was burned. I found an old BDD TRO 200 model with a lever switch (best option) in almost mint condition in the thrift store. I've never had a problem with old models. They should be seriously exhausted in all these complaints. Exploding glass and bonfires should not be part of the performance of a toaster oven! Rachel Auburn, WA Verified Reviewer Original Review: July 27, 2019 I bought a Black and Decker toaster oven less than 2 months ago. This morning I put a piece of toast in it and I turned around to grab a cup of coffee and I smelled smoke. I opened the toaster oven and my piece of toast was on fire. There was so much smoke that I had to open all my doors and windows and my smoke alarm started to go away. I turned off the toaster oven and threw the water over the bread. I brought it back to Walmart and they gave me their money back and I bought another toaster oven. It is very dangerous and I do not recommend anyone to buy a black and Decker toaster oven. I've had a lot of toaster stoves over the years, they functioned very well. It was a very terrifying experience as a fire could have caused more damage outside the toaster oven. SUSAN Syracuse, UT Verified Reviewer Original Review: May 7, 2019 Just threw my Toaster Oven in the rain - it was on fire!! I was in my office and the toaster dinged when it finished. Ten minutes later I walked in and it's on fire! I turned it off and threw it outside on my lawn. I think about how many times my 13-year-old has used this. We had problems with that oven. It's scary and should be withdrawn! I can't believe how many of them have the same question and nothing has been done. Patricia Delton, FL Verified Reviewer Original Review: April 16, 2019 I bought a convection toaster oven, and when I opened it only 1 rack and baking pan was too big. It doesn't fit. It was a black Model Decker TO4304SS. This clearly shows on the box that it should have 2 racks. Other than that, it seems to work. See how it goes as I bought it today at BJ's Wholesale.Dianne from Uxbridge, MA Verified Reviewer Original Review: April 15, 2019 I came home to find my Black and Decker toaster stove with no house to turn it on. I haven't used a toaster oven in 3 weeks, but the oven was on full blast behind the heated it seems. I had a mail that was on fire. Terrifying.Pam Parksville, B.C. Verified Reviewer Original Review: March 21, 2019 This product was obviously designed by someone who has never made a piece of toast in their life. No matter how little time the dial is turned on, it burns everything. The rack positions ensure that at least one side will not toast or will burn because it is not possible to strut the toasted element in the middle. And now I see from other reviews of glass Explode. And their complaint complaint doesn't allow anything to be presented - the perfect way to get no complaints. Lester Staten Island, NY Verified Reviewer Original review: December 4, 2018Nas Black and Decker convexed a countertop oven exploded in my kitchen tonight. I will never buy another POS Black and Decker product ever. Black and Decker have known about the problem for years, but continue to sell them. They are in prison. Deb Waukee, IA Verified Reviewer Original Review: November 17, 2018I sit here in my living room with a distinct smell of electric fire, because 20 minutes ago my year my year black Friday special Black and Decker toaster oven just burns in flames. He wasn't dirty. I'm cleaning this thing up. Oh, my God, stay away from this brand! I used a toaster oven often and bought a new one every few years just for an upgrade and I never had one catch fire. No plans to buy Black and Decker again. Tara of New York, NY Verified Reviewer Original review: June 19, 2018 We have had our toaster oven probably no more than two years. Today I was toasting pumpkin seeds and went to another room while they toasted. About two minutes later, I heard a loud explosion as something exploded - a glass door from a toaster blown out, Hollywood style, with pieces no bigger than thumbtack everywhere. Shocked, I quickly turned off the toaster and waited for the glass to cool down before I could even start to pick it up. I keep thinking that if it had been two minutes early, I would have been sprayed with hot glass and maybe even in the emergency room. It's unreal that there are so many cases like mine here that stretch to three years and nothing has been done. Diane Hartsdale, NY Verified Reviewer Original Review: November 28, 2017I turned on the toaster stove, left the room and about a minute later I heard a loud pop, returned to find the glass smashed all over the kitchen. I was very grateful that no one was in the kitchen. I see similar questions and I'm confused as to why there was no review! Next black and decker router table 76-400 manual
