Our Story

HEX Consultancy is a strategic advisory firm that integrates 20+ years of engineering excellence with modern business agility. We specialize in navigating the complexities of the global construction and infrastructure sectors, offering "battle-tested" leadership honed in the GCC and West Africa.

Our Mission

Our goal is to empower established businesses within our fields of expertise. By utilizing our extensive knowledge, we design customized solutions that align seamlessly with each client's unique requirements.

Our Vision

As AI technology evolves, we aim to incorporate it into our services, becoming an essential partner in enhancing your business outcomes.

The Founder's Vision

Over a 25-year career spanning the Levant, GCC, and West Africa, I have stood on the ground floor of massive infrastructure projects and in the boardrooms of the companies driving them.

I observed a persistent disconnect: great engineering failed by poor organizational design, and brilliant strategies that couldn't survive the reality of the construction site.

I founded HEX Consultancy in 2023 to close that gap. We are not just project managers, and we are not just management consultants. We are the nexus where technical precision meets strategic foresight. We build the assets, and we transform the businesses that run them.
