

ADAM CONLON

Former Soldier, Leadership Specialist, Inspirational Speaker

Adam is a former Army Officer with real experience of leading soldiers on extraordinary missions across uncharted areas of Afghanistan.

His adventures continued after leaving the military, leading him from working for the Royal family in Buckingham palace to assisting with the disaster relief effort in the Caribbean in the wake of the devastation caused by Hurricanes Irma and Maria.

As an inspirational speaker his tailor-made talks weave together incredible stories of adventure to share valuable lessons and powerful insights on leadership and teamwork, adding that extra special layer to your event.

Speaking from Real Experience on: LEADERSHIP TEAMWORK MOTIVATION

INSPIRATIONAL

To inspire leadership, you have to be a leader first and Adam feels privileged to have led people and been part of remarkable teams in the most demanding environments across the world. Sharing incredible stories and lessons of his adventures, Adam will energise and inspire your audience.

ENTERTAINING & ENGAGING

Adam's talks explore the inevitable highs and lows that teams experience when striving to perform. Exploring these stories with humour and a light-touch not only deliver an entertaining perspective of leadership and teamwork but also keep the audience engaged throughout.

THOUGHT PROVOKING & RELEVANT

A powerful speech will incorporate the opportunity for the audience to look at themselves and how they function as leaders, as teams, as individuals. Adam shares surprising leadership approaches the military uses get the best out of people to create high performing teams. An approach that can be applied to any organisation.

ENHANCE YOUR EVENT

Adam has given talks both in the UK and internationally, covering the full range of events and occasions – from small, intimate dinners to leadership and management seminars, through to annual conferences.
