

Eve Baldwin has been dancing since the age of four and trained at B. Funk for 3 years, performing on the Competitive Dance Team for 1 year and, most recently, on the Crew Team. She has experience in a variety of styles, including modern, ballet, contemporary, tap, jazz, and hip-hop. Eve is currently studying Finance at the University of Miami, where she is helping co-found a hip-hop dance club and pursuing a dance minor, continuing her passion for dance alongside her studies. She is excited to teach summer dance camps at B. Funk and share her love of dance with young students.
