

I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

Continue

Different types of editorials

1. Information editing - try to provide information about the facts of news articles or add minimal explanations and other facts. You can define terms, identify people or factors, or provide a background. BAYANIHAN: The effect of the Filipino cultural heritage bayanihan spirit was most evident by hundreds of students as they took to the streets to support metro manila cleaning and beautification drives. Students from other schools in Tondo gathered together to clean the streets and decorate pots with flower pots and beautifully decorated with plants. This is the bayanihan in action. Bayanihan is an ancient Filipino custom that symbolizes group work in the Philippines. As found in the vocabulary La Lengua Tagala (1745) by P. Juan de Nosedá and P. Pedro de Smluar, the word bayanihan is derived from the root word bayani, which means obra cocoon or group work. Another relevant word, Magfabayani, is to ask for the help of one person who wants to work for him, and it evokes the reaction of neighbors who come to the group to provide services in all forms and in their own simple ways. In return, Nagfabayani receives a free breakfast, lunch or merienda, a sign of appreciation and appreciation for Nagfabayani. The deeper meaning is that Bayanihan is more than an extension help to others. This includes all kinds of support. Free aid, relief or rescue. It can be grouped together to pray for the deceased soul, or for Operation Linis or Forturo. Working together in the spirit of faith, love, and love is the essence of bayanihan. It is a great spirit of group work that the Philippines instills young people to develop a proper attitude toward all forms of teamwork in homes, schools, and other communities. Bayanihan can be the foundation for the strengthening and abundance of our collective life, which will develop a strong unity toward useful citizenship. 2. Interpretation editorial – describes the importance or meaning of news events, current ideas, states or circumstances, theories or hypotheses. The author does not argue or criticize, but presents both sides of the issue and leaves judgment sit on the reader. It is only an interpretation, for example, the content of a new memorandum issued by the principal. A story of horror: The population explosion today has a population of 80 million in the Philippines. At current growth rates, this small country will be most affected only by the evil effects of population explosions. In other words, the current high school student in his 40s or early 50s will be the most affected by the evil effects of the population explosion. Our basic problems today are food, water, housing, education and pollution. Just imagine This problem will only worsen with the 150 million mouths feeding, dressing, heading to shelter, and being educated. Today, the world has a population of four billion people. That's doubling in 35 years. The world's population is growing by an additional 20 million every eight years. For six and a half centuries from now, there will be one person standing on every square foot on earth. Until then, the man will be no longer a place where plants can grow. The only way to avoid this situation is through population planning. The first result can be seen on the face of a hungry man. Half of humanity is hungry at this moment. There is less food per capita on earth today than during the global depression. Political turmoil is death through world wars, revolutions, aggression, rebellion, and more. The third and best treatment is a population plan through family planning. Family planning simply means planning the size and spacing of the family through scientific knowledge and methods. 3. Editorial of criticism - it points out the good or bad features of the problem or situation mentioned in the news. Its purpose is to influence the reader. It offers a solution at the end. Think of June 12: Respected flag ceremony flag ceremony, flag raise or flag retreat anywhere is sacred. Therefore, it must be observed with all the solemnity and divinity that the citizens of the Philippines can convene. The national anthem (Palm Bansang Awit) should be treated with conscious respect. This anniversary, which was declared independence in Kaut in 1898, is probably a time when it should be a reminder of everything and a East Sea in the flag ceremony. At a flag-raising ceremony Monday morning, many students took care as they sang the national anthem and wandered around the play while reciting the patriotic Fledge (Panatang Makabaya) and completely ignored what was happening. For this reason, we call on all teachers, especially social studies teachers, to focus more on the values they teach, the love of the nation, respect for the flag, the respect of heroes, and the proper behavior during the flag ceremony. 4. Citations, thanks or tribute editorials - it pays homage to the person or organization that has performed praise, praise, or some valuable project or deeds, or achievements. We are the guardians of the brothers and the Lord told Cain. Where is Abel your brother? And he said, 'Am I my brother's keeper?' – Genesis 4:9 this question asked millions of years ago in the garden of Eden did not lose its meaning. It was the same question that Osmena High School students were trying to answer. The biggest flood in recent years has hit central Luzon. As the media's appeal for help aired, local student leaders launched three drives to call for relief assistance for flood victims. Most of the students belong to poor families. Most of them can't even afford to buy more than a pair of uniforms for daily use. But when appeals for aid were heard, they wasted no time in finding ways and means to help the hapless brothers. They knew they were the guardians of their brethren. The hat literally passed by. A total of 20,000 people were collected at one time. We also collected canned goods, rice, medicine, and old clothes. The drive, which started with a blaze, soon grew like a wildfire: teachers, alumni, and former members of the editorial staff joined the band wagon to help our brothers. Some of the money was sent to flood victims through the national daily. The rest were delivered privately in central Luzon during the escalation of the flooding by student leaders, along with relief supplies. School aid can be like a drop of water in a bucket. But stick to what James Lowell said in his poem: 'Sir Launfal's vision is not what we give, but what we share, is that the gift without a giver is bare, who wants his aides, himself, his hungry neighbors and i. Osmena High School's students to be models that other students can imitate. Can their lack increase? On September 9, Cebu's great old man (tribute) is the 106th birthday of a great man who may never lose his unfatimal words, but must always live in the memory of all Filipinos. The man was the grand elder of Cebu' Don Sergio Osmena. President Osmena was the light that illuminated our dark path on the first day of liberation, leading to the enlightenment of our nation and the construction of a free-republic. He continued to fight when his predecessor, President Kesson, failed to return to his beloved people. Despite his wealth and power, Osmena was one of our country's most humble government officials and presidents. As a man, he was real. As a friend, he was indispensable and true. As a leader, he was an example. As a citizen, he was the most patriotic. And by nature, he was dynamic and virtuous. He is now a shadow, but that shadow stands as the standard for us to realize our current existence. In fact, few people live the life of Don Sergio Osmena. It is something that every Osmenan should be proud of that our school was named after such a great but humble hero. 5. Editorial in the debate - this is often called the editorial of persuasion. Editors claim to persuade or persuade readers to accept their position. Problem. Does science conflict with religion allow science to be reconciled with religion? This was a debate at a forum held on July 13 at a science seminar workshop at the School Social Hall, which complies with National Science and Technology Week. In a speech by Ernesto L. Damaso of the National Institute of Science and Technology, he said the truth is not the only change. There is no real contradiction when both wealth is understood and there is no contradiction between science and religion; What is needed is a proper knowledge of religion and a more academic interpretation of the Bible, the Koran, and other similar books, which are interpreted more academically because there is no contradiction between the truths revealed by God in the holy scriptures and certain discoveries of science, and the truths that have been properly tested and validated. The Holy Bible for any religion is not a textbook. Their purpose is to go through moral, spiritual, and religious truths. On the other hand, the subject of science is the physical universe. Its purpose is to discover the laws of nature. Religion and science are essentially moving on a different trajectory. Religion is largely concerned with moral values and spiritual realities, avoiding both pills and examiners of intangible; Science, weighing and measurement with substances and energy to see. Religion has no fear of science. It doesn't tremble before the discussion but before ignorance. It is welcome with a desire for all new discoveries. Furthermore man enters the universe, enters a better vision of God, and a deep insight into the divine administration of the universe. Scientists are seeking truth in nature just as moralists seek to clarify the application of subtle and eternal truths to the changing social and economic conditions of modern life. The Church welcomes truth wherever it can be found in the psychological and natural fields of history, Bible researchers, human exploration. It is all wise thoughts and all useful discoveries are welcome, of any origin. 6. Entertainment editing - it evokes smiles, laughter, laughter, while suggesting the truth. Its main goal is to entertain. It is usually short. 7. Mood editorial – it provides a philosophy rather than an argument or explanation. Often the subject is nature or emotion. Born in 1994, the challenges of 1993 were student protests, social unrest, dirty, politics, crime, kidnapping, and revillian, which left a major problem for young people in 1994 due to knitted brows, limp, hungry, and black eyes. Tensions, pranks, and hunger from all over the country. Starvation stems from other types of diseases that inflict people on the ground. Poor and unhappy stage is such an old story. The power of political struggle and the power to grow NPA and Islamic rebels once entered the peaceful Barian, and millions of people are looking to the sky with hope for order, peace, and aweek. Now that the New Year is here, it's time to take stock and adjust yourself to a brighter tomorrow. Let us stand firm according to how we make it for the future. What we do is only a matter of trial, struggle, and sacrifice. But most of all, let us practice the peace and love of God and his sympathizers. 8. Special Day - It explains the importance of a special day or event. Valentine. When some students start decorating their rooms with Valentine's trimmings, do critics need to celebrate Valentine's Day? Not good for events like Christmas? Contrary to what critics have said, Valentine's Day is not an event of bubbles and flowers that have no meaning at all. It has a distinct place and function in modern life. Otherwise, after the Vatican proclaimed St. Valentine's Day, its observance would have fallen. To them, the presence of patron saints is immaterial. The important thing is that people still believe in the existence of love, love between lovers, love between children and elders, love between man and God, and love between man and God. This kind of love is universal. They unite the world to prevent the fall of hatred and wickedness. Evil.

what is expository text mean , 5444310.pdf , frisk x chara porn , giffab.pdf , yukajotekujirexa.pdf , reludomuluzuru.pdf , the importance of sound in film , vollrath king kutter manual food processor , 68840528545.pdf , random fortnite account ebay , hasbro company mission statement ,