I used TS4 Default Eye Colors Fixer by CmarNYC. Thank you very much for the wonderful tool! made the tool supports texture-only eyes, so I think you can set the default eyes do not have CASP (like my default eyes) by yourself if you want to do. However the updated files are here.[Kijiko]eye_overhaul02_default-replacement_v3 Kijiko]eye_overhaul03_default-replacement_v4 Kijiko]eye_eyecolors03_Vampire-pack_v4 note that there is a possibility of updating again. Created for: The Sims 4 by CmarNYC This is a very simple tool to set the default replacement eyes that have been broken by the patch June 3. Tested only with human eyes. For use, remove the TS4DefaultEyesFixer_1_0_0_0.exe from the zipper and run it. Select the default replacement eye pack. When the tool is finished save as a new package. Replace the original package with the new package in the Mods folder. Notes: - This is very fast and dirty, so please consider being beta-ish and report issues.- Please save as a new package and keep the original just in case.- Not yet tested on alien or animal eyes.- Windows only, sorry. Technical: With new Eye EA patches and makeup textures RLE2 are now empty and there is another resource (type 0x2BC04EDF) with the same court number that atalk is a new type. The CASPs that link to the textures seem to be looking for the new type of resources first and using an RLE2 if they can't find one. Default replacements that bind to EA texture TGIs are replaced by the 0x2BC04EDF resource with the same instance. The fix is to link to a texture with a new, custom TGI. That's it, that's it. Anyway, I could easily make a mistake. Download: featured thoughtsskeletonpandashoe liked this Show notesLoading more ... Hey! I finally found a default eye replacement. The problem is I think there's a mod or cc in my mods folder that's in conflict with it. So I'm sure there's something in conflict with it. Is there a way for me to be able to tell what is causing the problem? Asked by Anonymous Hi there! I just reblogged a message from another Simmer said that eye shine remover of Laumia conflicts with the default eyes. So if you have this way remove this blog contains Sims 4 custom content only! THIS IS AN IMPLICIT REPLACEMENT. It will overwrite the eye colors of EA. Put the package file in the mods folder as usual, but be aware that you can only have one default eye replacement in the game. You will find your eyes in the eye category (see preview image 2). If you prefer facepaint eye, look for regular plastic eyes here: LINKHQ compatible (preview taken with HQ mod) miniature customMain blog | CC blog CC Navigation Tagged as ts4ccS4Cts4 csims4 ccRemussimsimsdefault_replacementeyes so for some strange reason, I finished a set of eyes that I really like, I hope you like it too!
