Our MCR has a very active committee that is responsible for most aspects of student life. The Committee is elected from the members of Balliol MCR in accordance with the MCR Constitution and holds regular, minute meetings to which all MCR members are invited. Please feel free to contact if you have any questions or suggestions about the life of graduate students at Balliol. Information on past committees is available since 2009. For a more detailed description of the committees' positions, please visit this page. All email addresses are balliol.ox.ac.uk. Ingvild Comfort Hwinden, President of Email: mcr.president@balliol.ox.ac.uk. Field Research: DPhil in Chemical Biology/Nationality: Norway and USA/Hi People! I'm Ingvild and yes, that's my real middle name. As president of MCR, I oversee the work of the MCR and the committee. In addition, I represent MCR in college and university. Please feel free to contact if you have any questions, suggestions, worries, or things you would like me to know. My DPhil is on metabolism for cancer. I spend my days growing and collecting cancer cells from petri dishes, and analyzing samples on temperamental tools. In the end, I hope to understand how cancer cells adapt to different chemotherapy. Besides MCR and my research, I love rowing, cooking/baking, reading and writing, picking and drinking whiskey, and watching silly TV shows. Momo Komatsu, Vice President Hello to all! I am Momo and I will be your vice president of MCR in the coming year. The MCR community was great for me last year and I am very excited that I can get even more involved. I will be responsible for internal matters, including housing. During the master's meetings, I will see that the student's voice is heard. Aside from studying economics, I love spending my time reading books, watching movies, playing board games, dancing and playing the piano! You can always approach me with anything, a serious conversation or a fun chat. Hope to see you all soon! :) Email: mcr.treasurer@balliol.ox.ac.uk. Field of Study: MPhil in Economics/Home Country: Switzerland/My name is Noah! After playing treasurer at Christmas Panto last year, I decided to run for treasurer myself. As such, I am responsible for all money matters within the MCR. I try to make our budget as transparent as possible. So if you have any questions about the financial situation of the MCR or how the funds are distributed, please feel free to contact. In addition, I am a second-year graduate student in economics, interested in economic history and political economy. In my spare time I love to read and stack my bookshelf with many books to ever read, go to museums, cook, travel around Eastern Europe, discuss politics and all kinds of art. For my second year at Balliol I hope The Crown will allow my MCR dreams - - part of a theatrical performance in the garden of Holywell Manor - come true! Hello everyone, I'm Simon, a second-year DPhil ph.D. candidate in chemistry, and a secretary this year. My role essentially comes down to organizing the MCR and committee meetings, typing the minutes of meetings, and keeping the MCR community in a loop regarding the things that are happening. You will receive weekly emails from me listing such events. If you want me to include anything in my email notification you think members of the MCR community would be interested in contacting! Emily Mikel, Social Secretary Hello Everyone! I am Emily, a second-year DPhil student and one of three social secretaries for 2020-2021. This means that I will be making sure that everyone will have a great time at Balliol through fun activities, making you feel at home very quickly. Matt, Tariq and I have great ideas for this year, but we'd love to hear if you have as well! Please feel free to contact if you have any suggestions or feedback on social events at MCR! A little more about me, besides studying chemistry I also enjoy making music (accompanying vocals with piano or guitar), all kinds of dancing such as ballet, modern and dance hall, running and writing (I eat) a vegetarian food blog with my buddy Hannah (see bar manager). Before joining Oxford I studied in Glasgow in Scotland, but I come from the Netherlands. So the cheese and wine exchanges are one of my favorite events in MCR! Matthew Herdman, Social Secretary Email: matthew.herdman@balliol.ox.ac.uk. Field Research: DPhil Interdisciplinary Biosciences/Home Country: Northern Ireland/Hey! I am a third year DPhil Biosciences student originally from Belfast. I love going to the pub, making fun of my friends, and the constant existential fear. I study the very sexual theme of bacterial cell development and, just as the model of organisms I study, I thrive on conflict and respond to any form of positive reinforcement with immediate self-destruction. My job as a social sec is to run and host events as part of a social throuple with Emily and Tariq (they disapprove of the choice of the trio's name). We're here to make sure you have a good time while you're in Balliol! Our MCR has a reputation for being one of the most socially active and attractive, and we are going to carry this tradition forward. Please contact us if you want to talk about any events that you would like to see conducted by MCR or any problems that you may have. I try to be as welcoming and as friendly as possible (also I am very receptive to bribes of either food or beer). If you need me, you can find me in one of Oxford's many pubs, avoiding my responsibilities. Hannah Ogden, Bar Manager Hello Everyone! My name is Hannah and I'm a friend to everyone I channel this call through my DPhil where I look at the factors influencing fitness in a number of types. Outside of my research, when I'm not taming wild stallions or feeding birds out of the palm of my hand, I'll help run the MCR bar! I got a lot out of the bar and the wider MCR community in my first year and I'm looking forward to getting back in the form of drinks, food and fun events. Specifically, my co-manager Mia and I are keen to introduce some pub quizzes and bingo nights to help keep Megaron fun and social center. Let us know if you want to participate! Hello! My name is Mia and I am a second year DPhil student with SBM CDT. I come from a town near Birmingham and before I went to Oxford, I was a student in Leeds. Hannah and I will serve as your bar managers this year, keeping the bar stocked, finances in check, and bops and bar social running smoothly. I was interested in the role after joining the bar committee in the first year, which was a great way to meet new people and give a bit back to MCR in a low commitment way (about an hour on time). We'd love to hear from you if you're interested in being part of the team! Outside of my studies, I really love playing music, and when the weather isn't scary I often skydive after qualifying with my solo license last year. You're very likely to find me at the bar, so I'll see you there! Email: cong.lu@balliol.ox.ac.uk. Field Research: Machine Learning/Nationality: UK/Hi, I'm Kong and I'm your social security officer! I'm a second year graduate student in machine learning, and when I'm not building your new robot overlords I'll be busy stuffing you with hummus, bread, homemade goodies, dumplings and more on welfare tea! We will also organize fun activities throughout the year, so keep your eyes peeled for these emails! If you are concerned, you have any problems, or you just want to chat, please feel free to contact and I will do my best to help and support you! Cecile Degiovanni, environmental employee email: cecile.degiovanni@balliol.ox.ac.uk. Field Research: DPhil Law (Legal Philosophy)/Home country: France/Hi all! Here's Cecile, the other of your two enthusiastic environmental officers. Consider the following hashtags: #ZeroWaste, #LocalFood, #DIY; do they make your heart beat? If they do, and even more, if they don't, please come and chat! Our role at MCR is to promote green initiatives, both at the micro level (e.g. offering refill options for washing fluids or soap bottles) and at a more macro level (encouraging college (s) to go greener). Whether the environment is your thing, since your very first breath or not so much, we would love to hear your thoughts and ideas about it (and don't forget the bottle of soap!). PS: U had a heartbeat and would you like to know more about green initiatives in Oxford? Among many others, consider Google searches of these: Oxford's charity shops (in the UK, where you can find a lot of cheap second-hand items: a precious resource when moving to!); Oxford Climate Society; Cultivate Oxford (weekly boxes of vegetables); OxUnboxed (zero-waste store on Little Clarendon Street). Or even better: just email us and we'd be very happy to tell you all about Oxford's secret green gems! Jacob Scar, Environmental Protection Officer Hi, I'm Jacob, one of your environmental officers. This year, we are working to ensure that the college adopts ambitious plans to reduce emissions and reduce spills. Building on the strong efforts of our predecessors, we also find ways to promote zero waste social activities, environmentally friendly food in the hall, and more affordable ways to minimize our carbon footprints. Here every idea and initiative can make a difference: Please feel free to get in touch if you want to participate! Finally, on a broader level in Oxford, we stand shoulder to shoulder in pushing colleges to abandon fossil fuels and replace these investments with green alternatives. (And rest assured, we are also vigilant about preserving our beautiful manor gardens at all times.) Conan O'Brien, living hello to everyone! My name is Conan and I am a second year cardiovascular science DPhil student. More importantly, I'm your life rep for a year! My job is to make sure that all those who live (not in Balliol graduate accommodation) feel associated with Balliol MCR. This entails organizing events for living outsiders (although everyone is welcome!), like pub nights and group brunches, and encouraging people to participate in and attending MCR run events. As a lively exterior in my first year at Oxford I really enjoyed and appreciated the life of the events held so far and I look forward to holding the same kind of event for you! I'm very open to any ideas on how to include those who live in MCR, so please let me know if you have any thoughts or ideas! Valeria Silva Gomez, female email officer: mcr.women@balliol.ox.ac.uk. Field Research: MPhil in Economics/Home Country: Germany/Hi, I'm Valeria, student economics focusing on development policy and gender inequality. I love cooking, dancing salsa and I never miss a chocolate cake or a good discussion about politics. I look forward to getting to know you at one of our many MCR events. As your female officer, I represent the interests of women and non-binary people in our MCR. I will organize women's events such as the Lady Devorguilla (Co-Founder of Balliol) Workshop and provide a platform for women to share their experiences and build a strong network on Balliol. Most importantly, being you a female officer means I'm there those who experience sexual violence, harassment or discrimination. If you have any questions, suggestions, problems, incidents - anything you would like to discuss with me, please do not contact me. I will do my best to help or support you. Sian Wilcox, LGBT (Sexuality) Officer Welcome to Balliol MCR! I'm Sian, a second-year DPhil sleep research student, and one of this year's LGBT officers. My role is to represent the interests of those in the LGBT community, and to act as a point of call for any social security issues that may arise. Balliol MCR is an incredibly diverse and inclusive place and I look forward to ensuring that everything is still maintained and welcomed here. Throughout the year, you can expect to see a host of social events, complete with rainbow and glitter galore. I will also hold educational events, symposiums and host speakers to showcase the various aspects of the community and history of the IBTP. If you experience any discrimination related to your sexuality, I am here to support you and ensure that appropriate action is taken. I'm also always available for chat, regardless of the topic. If you have any ideas for an LGBT-themed event, or want to attend, please feel free to contact me! Andrea Stykhet, CEO of zahidul H Sajid, Sports Director Email: zahidul.sajid@balliol.ox.ac.uk. Field Research: DPhil International Development/Home Country: Bangladesh/Hi, I Sajid. I am a DPhil candidate, and my research topic looks at the economics of education in Bangladesh. I am very happy to say that I will be your sports officer this year! I am a master procrastinator (I hope my supervisor does not see this) who likes to play or watch sports. I especially love football (Chelsea!), cricket (the only sport Bangladesh is good) and MMA. I also tried to take up hockey during my student years in Canada and Masters year at St. Andrews (with great reluctance and little success). Aside from sports, I also enjoy playing guitar and piano (slightly less likely to be injured). My goal this year is to make sure the Balliolites get all the opportunities to continue the sport they want. Balliol College offers a generous budget each year to encourage participation in team sports that are available to all members. If you have any suggestions regarding the launch of any sports teams, tournaments or problems, or if you want a gym and sports equipment for mcr, please feel free to contact me! In the spirit of democracy and participation, I'm committed to ensuring that as many people participate in the planning and decision-making process as possible - the more the better! Let's make sure Balliol remains the most appropriate college on campus! Duncan Martinson, this is Officer Hello! I'm Duncan Martinson, and I'm going to be your IT officer for a year. I'm in charge of MCR email listservs, as well as an update to the current MCR website. My main project during this year will be to improve and redesign the website you currently visit, and manage mailing lists for MCR. If you are you be added to any list of Balliol MCR emails, please send me an email to let me know. I am a third-year DPhil student working in a mathematical biology group; I study mathematical models, describing how blood vessels grow to tumors. I'm pretty active in the triathlon club as well; feel free to ask me how to take part in any sports clubs here in Oxford! Oxford!
