We need your help!

We're at the beginning of a multi-year project to collect Town of Keene oral histories and related photographs to be organized in categories. The rich cultural history of The High Peaks Region of the Adirondack Mountains of New York State will be collected, organized, and made readily available online. Stories won't all go as far back as the above photo because we'll also be collecting stories from the present day.

Please join one of our upcoming 35-minute focus groups to help decide the most important categories for the stories we'll be seeking. Also, we appreciate any suggestions of family, friends, neighbors, and former residents who may be interested in sharing their three-minute stories for this exciting endeavor.

More details will be available soon, but right now we need focus group volunteers!

Email myadirondackstory@gmail.com today to participate in one of the focus groups at the left.

This project is made possible by a Humanities New York grant, with support from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Any views, findings, conclusions, or recommendations expressed in this program do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities.
