You can help Wikipedia by expanding it.ve This article about transportation in North Carolina is a stub. You can help Wikipedia by expanding it.ve sourced from AppalCART recently announced changes to their fixed-route service, which will take effect on Monday 20 August. Among the changes is the format of route maps and schedules. The new map system displays all the stop places and routes that serve each stop location. Each route schedule appears on the back of the map. The stoppage time was listed for key stops along each route. If the time is not specified for your stop, plan to arrive at your stop at the time listed for the key stop just before the stop. For example: If your location stops ASU technology, you should identify the first key stop location to stop, which is the ASU Peacock Traffic Circle, and plan to arrive at the stop at: 23 or -53 to make sure you are able to catch this bus. Redesignated routes - Many of our itineraries and schedules have been redesigned to help them run on time and more efficiently. Please look at the new map and graphics to see how will effect you. New Sunday Service - Green, Red and Pop105 will run from PM - 8pm on Sundays during autumn and spring semesters. NC 105 Lot Shuttle will run from 4pm - 1:30am on Sundays during the fall and spring semesters. ASU NC 105 Lot - Served silver road until 6pm on weekdays. After 6 p.m. on weekdays and Saturdays, served by the Green Route.
