

Emerson Tsui

Research Activities Coordinator

Emerson Tsui is a Washington, D.C.-based China and Indo-Pacific security analyst and Chinese linguist. His research focuses on political and security affairs concerning Taiwan and China. His work has been cited in U.S. congressional testimony and by defense researchers and practitioners in the United States and Japan, including researchers at Japan's Ministry of Defense-affiliated National Institute for Defense Studies (防衛研究所), and has been translated into Japanese. Tsui also supports federal contractors on Chinese-language projects and actively volunteers with the Smithsonian Institution.
