It tells the story of Rosemary Rose Hathaway, a 17-year-old girl Dhampir, who trains to be the guardian of his best friend Moray, Vasilisa Lissa Dragomir. In the process of learning how to defeat Strigoi (the evil of the undead vampires) at St. Vladimir's Academy, Rose finds himself caught in a forbidden romance with his instructor, Dmitry Belikov, having an unbreakable mental connection with Lissa. The first book in the series, the Vampire Academy, was published in 2007; It was followed by Frostbite in 2008. The third book in the series, Shadow Kiss, was also published in 2008, and the fourth book, Blood Promise, was published in 2009. The fifth book, Spirit Bound, and the sixth book, The Last Victim, were released in 2010. By 2013, the series had sold 8 million copies in 35 countries. The first in the series was adapted into a film directed by Mark Waters, which starred zoe Deutsch, Lucy Fry, Danila Kozlovsky, Olga Kurylenko, Dominic Sherwood, Gabriel Byrne and was released by The Weinstein Company on February 7, 2014. Plot resumes at the Vampire Academy, the guardian in training Rosemary Rose Hathaway and Moroi Princess Vasilisa Lissa Dragomir return to their school, St. Vladimir's Academy, after fleeing two years ago. Upon his return, the guardian, Dmitry Belikov, who was the head of the guardian team, was sent to receive the two, appointed by The Guardian of Lissa and offered to mentor Rose in her guardianship training. He believes that Rose can be an excellent guardian of Lissa because of the rare one-sided mental connection with Lissa, which allows her to know the thoughts, emotions and location of the latter. Rose agrees, knowing that this is the only way she will be allowed to stay, and after graduation to be the guardian of Lissa. It turned out that Lissa has a wonderful ability to heal others, but when she falls into depression, she participates in self-harm. Lissa befriended a fellow moray out of the country, Lake, who Rose immediately dislikes, said he had a bad influence, in part because his parents voluntarily became Strigoi. Girls often mock a non-royal named Mia along with her royal friends, because of her resentment at brother Fox for her use. Rose reaches through her bond while confined to her room to find that Lissa is being kidnapped. She sneaks out of her room to tell Dmitri that Lissa has been kidnapped, but they are distracted by the lustful charm planted by Viktor Dashkov, Lissa's close-figure uncle and Natalia Dashkova's father. Natalie is a neighbor of Lissa's academy, as well as a friend of Lissa and Rose. After Dmitri gets rid of the charm, Rose directs the convoy to the kidnapper's hideout, and Christian is reproached during the trip. School guardians are able to save Lissa from the moray, whom she called her uncle, all her life, Victor, and she heals Christian when he is seriously injured during the struggle. After that, Lissa takes him as her boyfriend. Dimitri says that he has feelings for Rose, but he can not have a relationship with her because of the age difference, because he is her mentor, and also because he worries that if he allows himself to love her, he will not rush before the princess as it is his duty, but he will be inclined to defend her. This could put Moroa's appointee at risk. It turned out that Natalie spied on the girls and reported to Victor about the magical abilities of Lissa and the connection between Lissa and Rose. Rose attacks Strigoi while visiting Victor in his cell after he is caught, and Dimitri comes to help her. The story continues in Frostbite with Rose and Demetrius traveling to meet Arthur Schoenberg for the Rose qualifying exam. As soon as they arrive at the house of the Moroi-Konta-he protects family, they discover the massacre of the whole family and their guardians, including Arthur. To keep students at St. Wladimir's Academy safe, a ski trip to a lodge owned by the wealthy Moroi family is offered during the winter break, as many of the family's students will not be able to bring their students home safely and they are not all suited to the academy campus to visit for the holidays. During his stay in the cabin, Rose meets a royal Moray named Adrian Ivashkov, who flirts with her every time he sees her. During the pool party that Adrian invites originated and her friends, including Mason, his friend Eddie, and Mia, friends begin to express their opinions about the Hunt Strigoi. Rose breaks a fight between two royal morons, who later revealed that Adrian's father when they argue about using magic for self-defense to help the guardians in the war against Strigoi. Rose has another meeting with Adrian. Later, after a heated quarrel with Dmitri over his decision to go to work and have a relationship with Tasha Lake, Rose informs Mason about the possible whereabouts of Strygoya's hideouts, despite the fact that Dimitri trusted her to keep this information secret. Using the information of Rose, Mia, Mason and Eddie slip out of the ski house and go to Spokane, Washington to hunt down Strygoa. Rose discovers their plan and she and Christian follow to stop them. When they find the group, they are ambushed by Strigoi, who hold them captive for days. Rose eventually come up with an escape plan, and they all manage to leave the house in defense of the world except Rose. Mason returns and tries to help Rose, but Strizh snaps his neck, killing him instantly. Rose defeats Strigoi- with a blunt sword, furious over his death. Back in St. Vladimir, Rose gets two moles for his Strygoa murders. Dmitry also tells her that his heart is with Rose and will never leave her for Tashi Lakes. Shadow Kiss begins with Rose preparing for a qualifying exam with the rest of the newcomers. Rose is assigned to Christian for her fieldwork, to her horror. Christian approached Jesse Seklos to join the secret club he and Ralph started, Christian turns them down. Rose becomes suspicious, and tries to learn more about this club, which she later learns is called Mune from Adrian. Rose goes to meet with the queen Tatiana. She insists that Rose call her engagement Adrian. Tatiana says that she planned a marriage between Adrian and Lissa. Lissa is approached by Jesse and Ralph to join Mina, and she accepts their invitation as a chance to spy on them, without Rose's knowledge. Fox was taken into the woods and attacked by Jesse and other Mina members. Rose feels that something is wrong, and runs to Lisse's aid. She beats Foxes' attackers, and Lissa tortures Jesse with the Help of the Spirit. Rose realizes that whenever Lissa uses the Spirit, dark emotions fill Lissa, which caused her to harm herself in the first book, and tells Lisse to let dark emotions flow through their bond and into Rosa. Lissa obeys, and Rose suddenly begins to violently beat Jesse. Alberta and Demetrius appear, and Alberta has several guards to pick up Jesse, while ordering Dimitri to handle Rose, who is still in a state of mania. After Dimitri comforts Rose, they sleep together in a hut on the edge of the campus. When they start to return to school, they are attacked by strygoes. Dmitri sends Rose back to school to warn the guardians. The guardians give Rose a count and send her back to the dorm, but she slips away to go after Christian. She and Christian combine their skills to destroy Strigoi. They go on a rescue mission and are almost close to victory when Dmitri is attacked, and Rose later learns that his body has not been found. The ghost of Mason, who was spotted by Rose throughout the book, reveals that was not killed, but was made by Strigoi. Rose decides to leave the Academy, contrary to Fox's desire to follow Dmitri and kill him. She borrows money from Adrian with the promise of going back to him as soon as her job is done. Then she decides to go to Siberia, believing that Dmitry will go there first. In Blood Promise, Rose meets an alchemist named Sydney, and they go to Siberia, where she eventually finds The family of Dmitry ... and meets Abe Mazur, the moroy mafia. Eventually she leaves after an argument with Dmitri's sister Victoria. She then goes to Novosibirsk to hunt and interrogates Strygoa in the hope of finding Dmitri. When she meets him, he takes her hostage and refuses to kill her. Instead, he says he will keep her until she decides to turn Strigoi to be with him. All the while, Rose continues to check on Lissa in St. Vladimir through communication. Avery, a secret Spirit user, uses coercion to control Lissa. While visiting the mind of The Foxes, Rose is pushed out by Avery. Rose eventually manages to escape by grabbing a bid for an exit. Dimitri finishes her off, and they fight on the bridge, where Rose puts his stake in his chest. Exhausted, Rose ends up at the home of a Sydney friend's alchemist, and Abe is there too. When she wakes up, she realizes that Lissa is in danger with Avery, who wants to kill Lissa and then heal her back so that Lissa is kissed and connected to Avery. With the help of Oksana Rose manages to lead Fox and Adrian through the fight against Avery and her brother Reed and the guardian Avery Simon. Abe gets her a plane ticket home. Back in St. Vladimir, Rose reunites with Lissa and shares what happened to her in Russia. Agreeing to go to school to finish school, Rose returns to normal life in St. Vladimir. However, soon she receives a parcel from Russia, concluded with a stake that she used on Dmitry, and a note from him stating that he was not really delivered properly and still alive, waiting for Rose to finish school to find him. Rose realizes that with Dmitri still Strigoi, she has a chance to restore it in his former life. Spirit Bound begins with Rose taking the final. She plots with Lissa and Eddie to get Victor Dashkov out of his maximum security vampire prison. As soon as they succeed, Victor agrees to bring them to his brother, Robert, a reclusive user who is rumored to have once returned Strygoa to its original state. Robert tells them that the Spirit user should fill the stake with the Spirit and kill Strigoy on its own. Lissa and Christian are kidnapped by Dmitri as bait for Rose. Rose leads a group of guardians to his hideout and fights her way to him. She's about to kill him when Christian surrounds him with a ring of fire, while Lissa puts it. Dmitri is recovering as Dhampir. He pushes Rose away, saying he's no longer able to Love. Rose turns to Adrian for comfort. The next morning, at breakfast, Rose and Dmitri run over each other. In the middle of the discussion, a group of Guardians surrounds Rose, and Dmitri instinctively fights to protect her, but she calms him down. The guards announce to her that the queen Tatiana was found murdered with a stake Rose, and she must go with them. The final victim begins with Rose getting out of prison. Dimitri and Rose go to West Virginia with Sydney and decide to find Lissa's half-brother. The only person with information they need is an old teacher, Sonia Karp, who is now Strigoi. Victor and Robert join them, and Robert bets on Sonia, turning her back into Moroi. Rose then takes Sonia to find Lissa's half-brother. They discover it's Jill Mastrano, an old friend from the academy. Victor and Robert kidnap her. Meanwhile, Lissa is on the run for the queen. Rose, Dmitri and Sonia find Victor and Robert and return Jill, but Rose accidentally kills Victor during the fight. Dmitry comforts her, and they confess their love to each other. Then they re-borrow love in a luxury hotel. It turned out that Tasha killed the queen because she did not like her politician, and framed Rose because she was jealous of her relationship with Dmitry. Tasha shoots Rose while trying to escape. When she recovers, she is no longer related to Lissa. The series ends with Lissa becoming queen, and Demetrius and Rose together.
