december can someone help me? I was doing something with PS then suddenly it came up like this (and the whole thing froze) - I've tried logging in in safe mode but it doesn't work - even tried re-installing but still the same problem. it looks like the top part was a bult of Photoshop CC 2015, after that it looks like it continued to run and then the bottom part was some sort of animation software (i don't know what it was called). i would love some help please, it really got me a bit angry, and i can't just reinstall because of what i was doing with PS CC 2015. How about you go to Google Drive and use "Download from the Web" to save the image file to your PC, and then you can post the image here on this forum for people to look at. By the way, if this image is actually a crash dump file, there will be some information about the crash. And you should be able to right-click on the.dump file and "open with finder" and then open that file with your Notepad (or another text editor) to read the crash information. To do that, you need to have a free version of Windows 7 or Windows 8.1 installed on your computer, and you need to have the Microsoft.NET Framework 4.5.2 installed on your computer. To do that, you need to have a free version of Windows 7 or Windows 8.1 installed on your computer, 520fdb1ae7
